Jury Report Attacks Gambling In Clubs

Bingo Games Also Scored After Inquiry

The January Grand Jury, called into special session to investigate gambling, said in a report to Common Pleas Judge Joel H. Sharp Friday afternoon that it could find no evidence of control by commercialized syndicates, and that the main problem is social gambling in lodges and clubs.

Seventy-five witnesses were heard by the jury during the five days it was in session at Lisbon, called back as a result of a letter from the Salem Ministerial Association which declared that gambling is widespread in the county.

The jury didn't agree with the ministers. The first point in its report stated: "The gambling situation in Columbiana County is not so extensive and rampant as to cause undue alarm, and is being reasonably controlled by law enforcement officials."

Delving into the public's participation in gambling, the jury's report stated:

"The general acceptance by the public, and widespread indulgence in such schemes of chance as Lingo, bank nights at theaters, suit clubs, merchandise sales-ticket lotteries, and so forth, makes it extremely difficult to eradicate such practices, and creates a special problem for the law enforcement officer.

"We further find that most of the lodges in the county—ie., Elks, Moose, Eagles, and so forth; veterans' organizations, i.e., American Legion posts, Veterans of Foreign War posts, Disabled American Veterans posts, and so forth; and so-called private clubs, i.e., Sportsman Club, Inc., Columbiana; Club 13, Salineville; Salem Golf Club, East Liverpool Country Club, East Palestine Country Club—admit to owning and operating slot machines.

"The playing of these machines is not confined to members only. The violation by these lodges, organizations and clubs is generally ignored, and police officers admit that no action is taken against them unless a formal complaint is filed.

"No known instance of a formal complaint having been filed was presented in evidence to this Grand Jury. Apparently the size, influence and membership of these organizations defeat any attempt to enforce the gambling laws of Ohio with respect to them.

"Many of the influential citizens of the communities, such as businessmen, bankers, merchants, lawyers, physicians, and so forth, are members of these organizations and condone, if not encourage, the use and open display of these machines.

"The use of these machines in the organizations mentioned has a definite tendency to break down law enforcement with regard to gambling."

Places With Race-Result Wires Named

IN THE MATTER of open gambling, the jury said it found that slots have been placed in some establishments, such as gasoline stations and roadside restaurants. The report said diligent effort was made by the jury to discover the ownership of these machines, but the proprietors of the establishments "were unable to furnish this information". The jury noted that the machines had been placed in hiding during the period it was in session.

Horse race results have been distributed by wire into three known places in the county, the jury said, and named the places: Recreation Billiard Room, 525 East State St., Salem, formerly operated by Loyal and Carvel Phillips; establishment at 515½ Market St., East Liverpool, operated by Bill Carpenter and Ray Nichols, and establishment at 1443 Main St., Wellsville, operated by Cliff Stone and Fred Ware.

"The evidence presented indicates that the wire or race facilities have been removed from the Recreation Billiard Rooms in Salem," the jury's report noted, "but the facilities still exist at the present time at the above-named places in East Liverpool and Wellsville."

The jury said numbers-writing operations are conducted in the county, particularly in Salem, East Palestine, Lisbon, East Liverpool and Wellsville.

Gambling operations often are carried on, the jury said, "by local individuals who are well-known to the law-enforcing officials. These individuals have mostly lived in the same community all their lives, and always have been known to have engaged in such practices for a livelihood".

Such individuals contribute to local charities, civic improvement programs, and so on, and create a special problem for law-enforcing officials, the jury asserted. "He may be arrested, prosecuted and fined time and again, but continues his illegal employment in gambling. There is apparently no known method of removing these individuals from the community."

Communities Urged To Increase Fines

TO HELP meeting the gambling situation, the jury recommended that communities in the county "amend or revise their ordinances to provide for higher penalties for gambling violations, at least so the same are made to be consistent with state statutes". Such legislation has been considered in the past for East Liverpool, but has been laid aside while City Council studies the matter.

The jury said the police departments of the various communities, and the sheriff, should "institute a policy of confiscation and destruction of all gambling equipment, in every form, which is found to be exhibited and in use, or displayed for use, in establishments open to the public".

The problem of "permitted" gambling in lodges, private organizations and clubs, the jury said, should be called to the attention of the governor and the county's two state representatives "for considered legislative action".

Police departments, the jury added, should "immediately institute a vigorous program and policy of periodic and regular checking of places and establishments within their cities and villages where gambling activities are known to have habitually existed".

Finally, the jury urged officials of the county, generally, to give "special study to the problem of widespread use of bingo games for ostensibly charitable purposes".

The jury said it has reason to believe, from the evidence, that some of the games are operated for the profit of an individual, or group of individuals.

The report of the 15 members of the jury was signed by Russell M. Reight of Wellsville R. D. 1, foreman. Others on the jury were: Pearl Buzzard, William Magill, Mildred Pittenger and Floyd Williamson, all of East Liverpool; Mae Walton of Wellsville; Bertha Allison and Lawrence Lodge of Lisbon; Harry Bowman of Lisbon R. D. 3; S. E. Ward of Lisbon R. D. 5; Charles Baker and Mrs. Lloyd Gordon of Salem; Neal Kerr of Salem R. D. 1, and Dorothy Burns of Kensington R. D. 1.

Before dismissing the jurors, Judge Sharp thanked them for their report and said: "You recommend stricter enforcement, regular inspections and confiscation and destruction of gambling equipment. If these recommendations are carried out by the officials, I am sure this county will have no trouble from gambling."

SCIENTIST ACCUSED. William Perl, 32, Columbia University scientist, is shown outside federal courthouse in New York following arrest on perjury charge in connection with atomic espionage. He faces a four-count indictment, accused of lying under oath in denying he knew the key figures in the current atomic spy trial in New York. Perl is one of the two top aerodynamics specialists in the United States.

Probers Deny Report They'll Call Up Dewey

O'Dwyer To Testify Monday; Ex-Convict Held For Perjury

NEW YORK, March 17 (AP)—U. S. Senate crime investigators have wound up a week of turbulent testimony by local racketeers and politicians with the arrest on perjury charges of a former convict witness.

But the arrest, which came yesterday with three witnesses testifying almost simultaneously, today appeared only a prelude to former mayor William O'Dwyer's scheduled quizzing Monday.

Meanwhile, reports in two Chicago newspapers — The Tribune and The Sun-Times — said Governor Thomas E. Dewey of New York will be called before the committee to share the spotlight with Mr. O'Dwyer.

In special dispatches from New York, the Chicago papers said Mr. Dewey will be questioned about gambling at Saratoga Springs, an upstate resort near Albany.

Mr. Dewey's secretary, James C. Hagerty, termed the story "wholly untrue".

Rudolph Halley, the committee's chief counsel, said there has been no decision to call Mr. Dewey, and that such an idea is not being actively considered. He said there has been no change in plans since committee chairman Senator Estes Kefauver (D) of Tennessee, announced yesterday that "we have no intention" of calling the governor.

Louis Weber, 51, the former convict, is being held on $25,000 bail after he denied ever visiting City Water Supply Commissioner James J. Moran at the latter's office.

Mr. Moran, already on the witness stand for about an hour, stuck to previous statements that Mr. Weber visited him several times when he was first deputy fire commissioner.

A hoarse Frank Costello again gambled with a Senate contempt citation yesterday by refusing to testify.

Mr. Costello, who claims he is too sick to testify, was examined today by a committee-named physician. Results of the check were not disclosed immediately.

Crushed By B-36 Doors

FORT WORTH, Tex., March 17—A 23-year-old aircraft electrician, Jack Randall Nichols, was killed yesterday when the bomb bay doors of a giant B-36 bomber snapped on his chest. He was working on a plane on the Convair flight line when the huge doors snapped shut.

Racketeers Facing Tax Crackdown

Charges Against Ralph Capone Called Only The Beginning

WASHINGTON, March 17 (AP)—A nation-wide federal tax crackdown on racketeers is reported shaping up rapidly.

Informed sources said the filing of criminal charges against Ralph Capone is only the beginning.

These sources said a virtual barrage of tax claims—with criminal charges attached in many cases—are in the making as a result of three years of intensive investigations.

Names were withheld, partly because a tip-off to the quarry could cripple the drive, but it was made plain that some of the country's most notorious underworldings are tagged for tax actions, and soon.

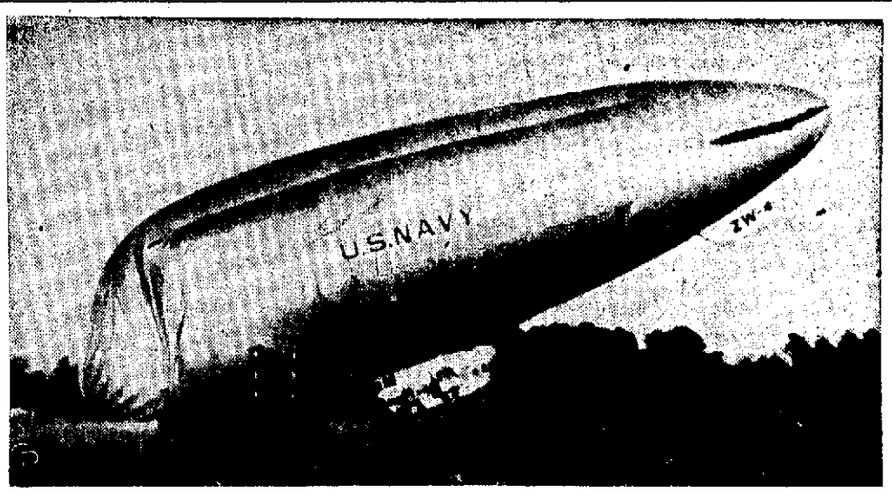
Capone, brother of the late Chicago gang-king Al Capone, was described as merely the first nationally known figure to be accused in the 1951 drive.

A few days before filing three criminal charges against him, however, the Revenue Bureau slapped heavy tax recovery claims on two Washington men with fortunes allegedly built on gambling enterprises and a like claim for nearly one million dollars on the estate of another. The charges against Capone carry possible jail terms totaling 16 years.

One of the Washington men, Sam Beard, was indicted at the same time and an effort was planned for a criminal indictment against the other, Emmitt Warring. Lacking a country-wide reputation, these men had gone unmentioned in a Senate crime committee probe.

The action against Capone stemmed directly from the initial federal use, in 1930, of the tax laws to jail hoodlums who had avoided conviction on other scores. Ralph got a three-year sentence then and his brother Al, who died in 1947, was later sent up for a 12-year term.

Figuring in the new accusations was $12,289.59 in unpaid taxes that were involved in Ralph's 1930 conviction. Ralph is charged, among other things, with trying to settle that, and another $87,000 in unpaid taxes, for $25,000 through falsely representing his ability to pay.



HAS UPS AND DOWNS. This 250-foot Navy patrol blimp is shown down for the third time near Camden, N. C., before rising finally and flying back to its base at Weeksville, N. C. The craft first crashed in the Pasquotank River while making a landing approach. The pilot was hurled from the blimp and swam ashore. The ship rose before it could be abandoned and crashed a second time when the crew released helium. When crash boats attempted to take the blimp in tow, it broke away, finally coming to rest in a cornfield. The blimp later flew back to its base.

Salem Couple And City Man Hurt In Crash

Jeep Driver Reports Damage In Hit-Skip Accident With Auto

A Salem couple and an East Liverpool man were hurt in a crash Friday night at 10:20 on Dresden Ave. at Webber Way, police reported.

Treated at City Hospital were: Thomas Lewis, 27, and Beatrice Lewis, 20, both of Salem, and Donald C. Bennett, 20, of 706 Oakland Ave. The Salem couple suffered abrasions of the head and face and Mr. Bennett was treated for a scalp laceration.

Mr. Lewis, a mechanic, was driving a 1941 two-door sedan owned by W. C. Arb, Salem auto dealer, police reported. He told police he was driving west on Dresden and started a turn onto Webber Way. Mr. Bennett, a plumber's helper, was driving east, officers said.

No one was injured in another mishap, a hit-skip.

'Deal' Reported To Free Ike For Presidency Call

MIAMI, March 17 (AP) — A National Broadcasting Co. radio commentator reported today that General Dwight D. Eisenhower will be recalled from Europe in mid-summer of 1952 to be "available" for nomination for president.

"President Truman made a deal with General Eisenhower to make Ike available for the presidential campaign of 1952," the radio newsman, Merrill Mueller, wrote in the Quill, magazine published by Sigma Delta Chi, national honorary journalism fraternity.

He wrote that General Eisenhower himself told him of the arrangement.

"The chief executive told Ike that one Harry Truman did not want to be accused of exiling a potential powerful contender for the honors of the White House.

"Ike told me this during a private meeting in Denver last December. None of our talk was off the record, but some of it must still be restricted at this time because of the general's foreign commitments.

"Ike also told me—in contradiction to his written reply to my letters over the last five years—that he would run in 1952 if drafted by one of the political parties," Mr. Mueller continued.

"About the same time, President Truman told friends around him in Washington—several of whom I have talked with since—that Ike could have the presidency if he wanted it."

Mr. Mueller, a former foreign correspondent now stationed by N. B. C. in San Francisco, declared: "Republicans are staking most of their hopes on the general, but they are overlooking an obvious threat that Ike could just as easily become the Democratic candidate!"

Fulbright Set To End R.F.C. Probe Monday

G.O.P., However, Will Battle To Keep Loan Inquiry Going

WASHINGTON, March 17 (AP)—Senator Fulbright (D) of Arkansas said today he plans to end Monday his probe for cases of influence wielding in Reconstruction Finance Corp. loans.

The chairman of the investigating Senate banking subcommittee turned his back firmly on an offer of additional funds from Congress to keep the inquiry going.

However, the three Republican members of the subcommittee said they will try to override him in a showdown vote possibly later next week. They contend some sensational developments turned up during the inquiry have not been fully explored.

Mr. Fulbright insisted the committee has completed its work. It has "amply proved" that political favoritism has tainted R.F.C. affairs and that an "influence ring" involved has White House contacts.

To belabor the point further could only serve political ends, he added.

Mr. Fulbright told reporters he will renew in a Senate speech his plea that Congress launch a follow-up inquiry into the morals and ethics of other government agencies, and Congress itself.

He said he also will urge again the creation of a "non-political" commission of distinguished citizens and congressional leaders to conduct that inquiry.

"A really impartial study of the ethical standards of the Senate would surprise the people by showing how good those standards are," Mr. Fulbright said.

"But if any congressional group conducted the study, and made such a report, I'm afraid it would be called a whitewash. It might be considered suspect."

Senator Capehart of Indiana, ranking Republican member of the subcommittee, told a reporter he intends to force a test vote on Mr. Fulbright's plan to end the committee inquiry.

2 Cousins Sentenced To Penitentiary Terms

Two East Liverpool cousins were sentenced Friday by Judge Joel H. Sharp to the State Penitentiary at Columbus, and a Wellsville man was arraigned.

Robert Monroe, found guilty Feb. 6 by a Common Pleas Court jury on two counts of forgery, and Richard Monroe, convicted a day later of driving a car without the owner's consent, were given 1-to-20 years each.

Frank Binegar Jr. pleaded not guilty to a burglary indictment returned by the January Grand Jury. Judge Sharp fixed his bond at $1,000. He is accused of breaking into Heddleston's Grocery Sept. 23.

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., March 17—Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg was reported more comfortable today.

MacArthur Finds Front 'Going Well'

Allies Report Signs Enemy May Have To Retreat To Parallel

TOKYO, March 17 (AP)—More than 200,000 Chinese Reds are massed today in central Korea, south of Chunchon—the base they must hold to stay below the 38th Parallel.

An Allied intelligence officer in Seoul said, however, there are signs the hard-pressed foe may have to pull back soon all the way to that artificial boundary for North and South Korea.

Rushing in fresh troops, the Reds lashed back with ground arms and artillery from good ridge defenses below Chunchon, eight miles south of the 38th Parallel. Their outposts drove off Allied patrols probing the outer defenses.

This was the first sign the Reds had decided to end days of retreat and try to hold along a new defense line.

General Douglass MacArthur paid a surprise visit to the fighting front today and found "everything going well".

The United Nations commander jeeped to within 2,000 yards of the battleline south of Chunchon. The general returned to Tokyo later in the day.

Associated Press Correspondent William C. Barnard reported from the central sector that American forces northwest of Hongchon today threw back a company-sized attack by Chinese Reds. This was near the area visited by General MacArthur.

Associated Press Correspondent Nate Polowetzky reported there was virtually no contact with the enemy on the east-central front.

Earlier dispatches, however, said the Reds rushed fresh troops

3 In Numbers Racket Fined

Operators Wait Court Rule On Equipment

Is a numbers operators' adding machine subject to confiscation as gambling equipment?

That question was posed today for Municipal Judge George L. Brokaw after he fined three admitted numbers operators — including two seized with their adding machines Monday afternoon as they figured the day's take.

Judge Brokaw commented he will study the law and rulings of higher courts before deciding if he should return adding machines to Kayle Reark, 616 St. Clair Ave., and O. B. Stockdale, 223 West Eighth St.

Along with Denzil Chamberlin, a small-fry writer, they were fined $50 and costs when they pleaded guilty to possession of lottery slips. The judge commented that it's the maximum fine permitted under the city ordinance.

Judge Brokaw ruled that about $50 in change seized in Reark's home should be returned to the defendant or applied against his fine. He indicated the adding machine also may be returned, as it is not "a device used exclusively for gambling".

Solicitor John B. McDonald raised the question of returning the adding machines to Stockdale and Reark.

Arrested Monday afternoon, the three were not arraigned immediately because the judge was ill with flu. Reark and Stockdale were arrested in their homes and Chamberlin was cited on a downtown street corner, police reported.

A Relief From Red

Green Rules The Land As St. Patrick Has His Day

By The Associated Press

America, a country built by people from many nations, today honored St. Patrick, the patron saint of Ireland. O'Reillys, McCarthys, Murphys and the like stepped out briskly in parade in many cities. The day gave young and old a chance to brighten up things with the wearin' of the green.

In New York City, an estimated 90,000 persons marched up Fifth Ave.—which sported a green traffic ribbon instead of the usual white one. As city workmen said—well, the street needed a new traffic line and let's give the marchers something to look at, too.

Among those reviewing the Manhattan parade were Francis Cardinal Spellman and former New York Mayor William O'Dwyer, now U. S. ambassador to Mexico.

In Erin, N. Y.—near Elmira—2,000 kelly-green envelopes, bearing Irish design, were mailed by residents to collectors. The envelopes carry green three-cent stamps (issued recently to commemorate the American Bankers Association).

In Boston, the day was a double-barreled celebration.

This also is the day the city celebrates the 175th anniversary of the evacuation of Boston by the British. About 250,000 persons gathered in South Boston and it was hard to tell who was celebrating which anniversary.

In Los Angeles, Barry Fitzgerald—who won the 1951 Irish screen award of the Ancient Order of Hibernians in a nation-wide poll—was presented with a statuette of St. Patrick.

In Detroit, thousands of shamrocks and green apparel made their appearance, although the celebration had a somber note, too. Special ceremonies honored Detroit's Irish dead — including the late Supreme Court Justice Frank Murphy and Bishop Michael J. Gallagher.

Throughout the nation, the St. Patrick's Day observances included special masses and memorial services.

2,761 County Births Listed

Registrar Records 1,124 Deaths In '50

Columbiana County averaged 53 births a week during 1950, with a total of 2,761 against 1,124 deaths for a net population gain of 1,637.

Mrs. Ruth E. Cramer, vital East Liverpool statistics registrar, filed 1,310 births and 404 deaths, while Dr. H. T. Holzbach of Salem registered 1,336 births against 368 deaths.

The figures were revealed in a certification from the State Department of Health authorizing County Auditor Irvin J. Verndran to pay county registrars their annual fees of 25 cents per entry.

All communities except East Liverpool and Salem recorded more deaths than births.

The statistics follow:

Wellsville, 40 births — 55 deaths; East Palestine, 15-47; Lisbon, 17-92; Columbiana, 2-33; Salineville, 14-30; Hanoverton, 6-2f; Rogers, 4-23; Leetonia, 9-23; Washingtonville, 2-4; Homeworth, 1-13; East Rochester, 5-11, and New Waterford, 0-0.

Registration costs totaled $971.-25. Individual payments were ordered as follows:

Mrs. Cramer, $428.50; Dr. Holzbach, $426; Ross Armstrong of Lisbon, $27.25; S. Richard Orr of Columbiana, $8.75; Kenneth K. Hutson of Salineville, $11; Alfred M. Ewing of Hanoverton, $6.75; Mamie Hall of Rogers, $6.75; O. D. Dustman of Wellsville, $23.75; J. A. McCue of Leetonia, $8; Morris Nicely of East Palestine, $15.-50; Margaret E. Spear of Washingtonville, $1.50; George W. Glass of Homeworth, $3.50, and H. E. Greenfield and Leroy Harsh of East Rochester, $4.

Hershey Favors Exams To Defer 'Brainy' Students

WASHINGTON, March 17 (AP) — Selective Service Director Lewis B. Hershey yesterday disclosed he has proposed a plan for qualification tests to give draft deferment to brainy high school and college students.

In correspondence with the House armed services committee, General Hershey said he submitted the proposeal to Mobilization Director Charles E. Wilson as a recommendation. Whether it will be put into effect is up to Mr. Wilson and Dr. Arthur Flemming, manpower director under Mr. Wilson.

Officials said the number of educational deferments may increase, if the new plan is put into effect.

The plan calls for nationwide tests of high school and college students.

High school graduates of draft age passing the test with a mark of 70 or more would be deferred to enter college.

First-, second- and third-year college men passing the tests with the 70 mark or better also would be deferred to go ahead with another year.

In addition, all college freshmen in the upper half of their class would be deferred.

Conservation Office To Be Open Saturdays

LISBON, March 17 (Special)—For the first time since the end of World War II, the Columbiana Soil Conservation District offices in the Courthouse will be open on Saturday.

This complies with a portion of Secretary of Agriculture Charles C. Brannan's plan to consolidate offices of the Soil Conservation Service and the Production and Marketing Administration.

In his order on consolidation, which was aimed at giving improved service and saving funds, the secretary directed local offices be open on Saturdays, the farmer's traditional day for going to town.

James Pendry, district conservationist, said the office will be open to noon each Saturday.

Midland Civic Club Juniors Pick New Officers At Meeting

MRS. CLAUDE REED was elected president of the Midland Civic Club Juniors at a meeting Wednesday in the Carnegie Library.

Other officers are: Mrs. Alex Keser, first vice-president Mrs. Vincent Carroll, retiring president, second vice-president; Mrs. Wayne Bolland, recording secretary; Mrs. DuWayne Porter, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. John L. Peterson, treasurer.

Mrs. L. H. Wagner and Mrs. Charles Finley of Georgetown were named to arrange a musical program to be presented Tuesday at the Passavant Home in Rochester.

A reminder on postage stamp collections for veterans' hospitals was issued by Miss Alice Carland, junior county chairman of international relations.

Providing stamps for veteran collectors is a national project of the junior club women. Contributions of U. S. stamps' other than the 1-, 2-, 3- and 6-cent varieties, foreign stamps, commemorative issues, high denomination and revenue stamps and canceled envelopes may be made to Miss Carland or Mrs. James Grove of Midland Heights, chairman of the club peace service and international relations.

Miss Carland said the best procedure is to turn in the complete envelope. If the envelope is wanted, cut out the stamp, being careful not to trim off the perforations on the side of it, she urged.

Used stamp albums also were requested.

Luncheon was served by Mrs. Arthur Reed, Mrs. Claude Reed, Mrs. Paul Schlosser and Mrs. Joseph Rakas.

Deaf Witnesses Testify By Notes In Non-Support Case

A typewriter and big sheafs of longhand notes were used today in Municipal Court to question two elderly witnesses, both deaf, in a unique non-support case

It's the case of a "long lost' father who appeared in East Liverpool late in February, claiming support from an East End man he says is his son

Guy Jones, 78, of Delaware the complaining witness and his wife, Mrs Ida Jones of Wellsville both are deaf Defendant is Robert H Jones of Erie St

Solicitor John B McDonald prosecuting the case and Attorney George A Aronson, defense counsel, wrote dozens of notes on slips of paper to question Mrs Jones Other notes were typed by Mrs Mary Toland, court reporter, who was taking the testimony

Mrs Jones was on the stand for nearly an hour then Mr Jones was summoned

The charge was brought under a seldom-invoked section of state law that requires a child to support a destitute elderly parent if the parent cared for the child during his first 16 years

Mrs Jones testified that her son went to work at the age of 12 and has contributed to her support since

When first haled into court on the charge March 7, Mr Jones said he had not seen his father since 1924 and had believed him dead for many years.

Special Kind Of Gambling

UNABLE to find evidence of professional gambling in the county, the Grand Jury says in its report to Common Pleas Judge Joel Sharp that the main problem is social gambling—the kind the public seems willing to condone; in fact, insists upon for its own amusement.

This isn't the kind of gambling the Kefauver committee is checking into. It isn't the kind that Governor Lausche has been blasting at. It is a special kind—of the people, by the people, for the people. And it's the hardest kind for the police to handle.

It would take an extremely brave police chief, for instance, to pull up at the front door of the Country Club, push some of the best people in town out of the way and cart off the club's slot machines. That just isn't done—by popular agreement.

Or the raiding squad that descended on the Legion's bingo game, scooped up the cards and the pot, and hauled away the operators would be subjected to the vicious kind of tongue-lashing that only an irritated housewife, disturbed at her favorite game, can administer.

Or the police detail that padded softly through the hall at the Elks Club, moved upstairs to the poker tables, and started arresting people right and left would find itself the subject of a heated resolution, if not a demand for outright resignation.

The value of the Grand Jury report is that it puts the gambling picture in true focus. It isn't the police who have fallen down; in fact, professional gambling, the kind they are expected to control, is at a minimum. It is the public's insistence that it be allowed to do as it pleases—with no interference, please.

The Penitential Season

DURING these weeks of Lent, while the mundane affairs of so many men who have fallen from grace or never attained it have been in dismal review, there has been new vigor added to the only force which ever has shown any promise of improving the state of all mankind.

It is as though all who have aligned themselves with that force were inspired by a fresh challenge. This is by no means the first challenge, nor is it the greatest. It is only one more of the endless challenges to which Christianity has reacted with courage. Whether an individual is bound closely to the organized practice of Christianity, or is only influenced by its impact on the modern world, he must be especially aware in this season before Easter that men's finest hopes and aspirations are still in good hands. There is still a force in human affairs infinitely greater than the seeds of corruption which ever and again fall in places favorable to their growth.

It is commonplace these days to hear expressions of despair prompted by a flood of evidence that men of little or no faith have violated their trust. It is not so commonplace to hear expressions of confidence prompted by evidence that men of great faith are being true to their trust. But they are being true. They are approaching the climax of Easter with their faith unshaken and their consciences clean and clear.

Is There Plenty More?

IS IT TRUE about taxes, as it is about many other things, that we live and learn. The latest outpouring of federal income taxes is a good time to review what has been learned.

Americans have been suckers for the idea that there is plenty more where that came from, in regard to federal taxes. They still are. They look at all those billions, and don't even quiver.

But they do not see the connection between the federal gravy train and the fact the per capita federal tax of every American has soared from less than $13 in 1938 to more than $400—and is still soaring.

Instead, they take out their spite against high taxes on the tax-spending agencies nearest to them—in their own communities. They murmur about federal income tax rates which rise to a point of confiscation of wealth, but when someone in their own communities proposes a tiny tax increase for local improvements, they roar.

Consequently, local government has been reduced to the absurd practice of trying to pad its income by dispatching emissaries to Washington to compete for ever larger sums of federal money. Even the states have fallen into this goofy habit of pursuing their own tax dollars to Washington, to try to coax them back home, minus federal handling charges.

Congress can appropriate 220 billion dollars with less fuss than it would take to set aside a couple of million dollars for new schools. Washington gets a free rein; everybody else gets a curb bit. It makes no sense. That much has been learned about taxes.

To make the parts strong, the cooling of forgings for airplane motors is controlled so that it takes several days for the steel to cool down from about 2,000 degrees Fahrenheit.

The area of the Pacific Ocean is about the same as the combined extent of the Atlantic, Indian and Arctic Oceans.

Fulbright Ought To Stay On Job

THE Fulbright committee's term ends on April 30. By no possibility can its work be completed by that date. As a matter of fact, this committee has done so well in uncovering the evil practices in the Reconstruction Finance Corp. that it ought to be continued until that cesspool is cleaned out.

We now are informed that the Reconstruction Finance Corp. has been given a monopoly for the purchase of tin for the entire United States. After what already has been disclosed concerning the R.F.C., it would not seem that this organization can be entrusted with such a responsibility.

This committee could be allowed to die, and although a few individuals would suffer a scant pillory, the pattern of corruption would not have been completed. As a matter of fact, every doubtful loan should be examined and exposed before the Fulbright committee expires.

THE ULTIMATE of the Fulbright committee's investigation would be the closing down of most of the governmental lending agencies. They were created to meet emergencies; they have been perpetuated beyond the needs of the country and therefore they have become corrupted.

It probably would serve the country well if the Fulbright committee would seek the judgment of Jesse Jones in the course of its investigations. It undoubtedly would discover from his experience that, when a government agency outlives its usefulness, it ought to be permitted to die. Jesse Jones has advocated the abolition of the R.F.C.

The Fulbright committee also might consult the investigators of the Hoover Commission, who studied the lending agencies of the government and were not impressed by the arguments for their continued existence.

It needs to be recognized now that the work of this committee has only started; to permit its investigations to die on April 30 would give the crooks not yet exposed safety to pursue their raids on the taxpayers' money. Pressure should be put on Congress to keep the Fulbright committee alive.

I WATCHED the Kefauver committee on television for several hours. It was a wonderful experience. I do not blame any crook if he refuses to appear before the committee with television as a witness. The devil is exposed by appearance, word, gesture.

Joe Adonis, for instance, looked and acted like a movie gangster. He was an imitation George Raft. He was brazen. He was contemptuous. When he said that he would answer the questions asked when he had his day in court, he was only maintaining an American tradition which could have won sympathy. However, the way he said it, the way he looked, the cheapness of the tough guy, made it sound as though he meant that he would answer the questions only if he came into a court where he owned the judge body and soul.

Maybe the mob ought to hire a man to teach them how to act in front of television, for this instrument exposes them like an X-ray. It is different from radio because it provides a complete personality. I watched Adonis consult his lawyer on television and I am sure that he made a very bad impression on me.

The Kefauver committee seems to be going through with its job with a welcome degree of thoroughness. We are getting an insight into the character and personalities of our new masters, who have been seizing the political machinery of the country, first on the municipal level, then, in some places, they have moved to the state level. How long could it be before they used the huge funds made out of dope, policy and prostitution to corrupt the machinery of both parties on the national level? There is the menace of this gang.

This makes the Kefauver committee's work of the utmost importance. It, too, should not be permitted to end its work. It ought to be continued until it has smashed the Mafia and sent its leaders to prison. The United States does not need a Mafia any more than it needs Communists.

This country does not need any organization of private persons who exercise control, in private and secrecy, over other citizens and even over the government of municipalities, states and the federal administration. All secret agencies are evil in a free society. They are an importation of deleterious European habits and activities.

Intelligence Tests

By Truman Twill

JUST as sure as some of the smartest kids will turn out to be jailbirds, the intelligence tests which are a dime a dozen are going to do this country more harm than good.

There is beginning to be a grass roots revolt against the notion that a person able to come through one of these things with flying colors is therefore superior to someone else who fumbled the assignment or was always a little thick in the head.

Some Americans who were a little thick in the head about some things have been mighty handy to have around when the roof began to cave in. And some of the real bright ones turned out to be termites that chewed away the rafters to hasten the caving-in of the roof.

There is not, and never has been, any direct connection between being "bright" and being a wholesome citizen, in the sense of being a dependable unit in a good society. It was not the original intention of intelligence testing to suggest a connection.

But in the hands of people looking for short-cuts to decisions which can be made only by qualified judges wrestling with their consciences, the intelligence test has become a tool for enormous potential evil. It is being misused in some instances to determine who should and who should not enjoy a status of privilege in this republic.

Perhaps this could not be helped in a country which worships success in performing tricks—a country which has reduced snobbery to a formula. But before it is too late, some of us thickheads had better start howling, "Da!" at the tops of our hoarse voices before the statistical smarties shuffle us to the bottom of the deck.

Not that we lamebrains have any objection to an aristocracy of intelligence in which the aristocrats are chosen for intelligence. Our objection is to an artistocracy in which the aristocrats are chosen for their ability to score a high mark in a test which purports to measure intelligence, but actually is only a crude index to aptitudes for performing certain functions with the eye, the ear and that part of the mind which retains impressions.

The test cannot measure the soundness of human instincts, integrity, character and ability to hang together when the going gets rough. These are far more important than mental nimbleness. Some of the fast workers who have dirtied up the public premises lately are too nimble for safety. They are quick as minks, with morals to match.

There were some rudimentary tests in use before psychologists tried to make an exact science out of guesswork. A man was smart if he could get what he wanted without being dumb. He was dumb if he stole things that didn't belong to him, or betrayed his friends. In that event, he was not a good one to have around, no matter how tack-sharp he might be in his mind. "Da!"

Rain On Order

Weatherman May Be Losing His Monopoly

WASHINGTON

SCIENTIST Vannevar Bush believes rain-making is here to stay, and "in a decade we may be affecting the environment in which we live in an extraordinary manner".

Dr. Bush, head of the wartime office of research and development, which had a hand in the development of the atomic bomb and proximity fuse, said the "new art" is bound to have some military significance.

But it is much too early now, he told a joint Senate subcommittee, to see clearly just what the military impact may be.

The subcommittee, headed by Senator Anderson (D) of New Mexico, is studying three bills to bring artificial rain-making under federal control.

Dr. Bush said he though the time has come to set up a new federal agency to control man's efforts to change the weather patterns.

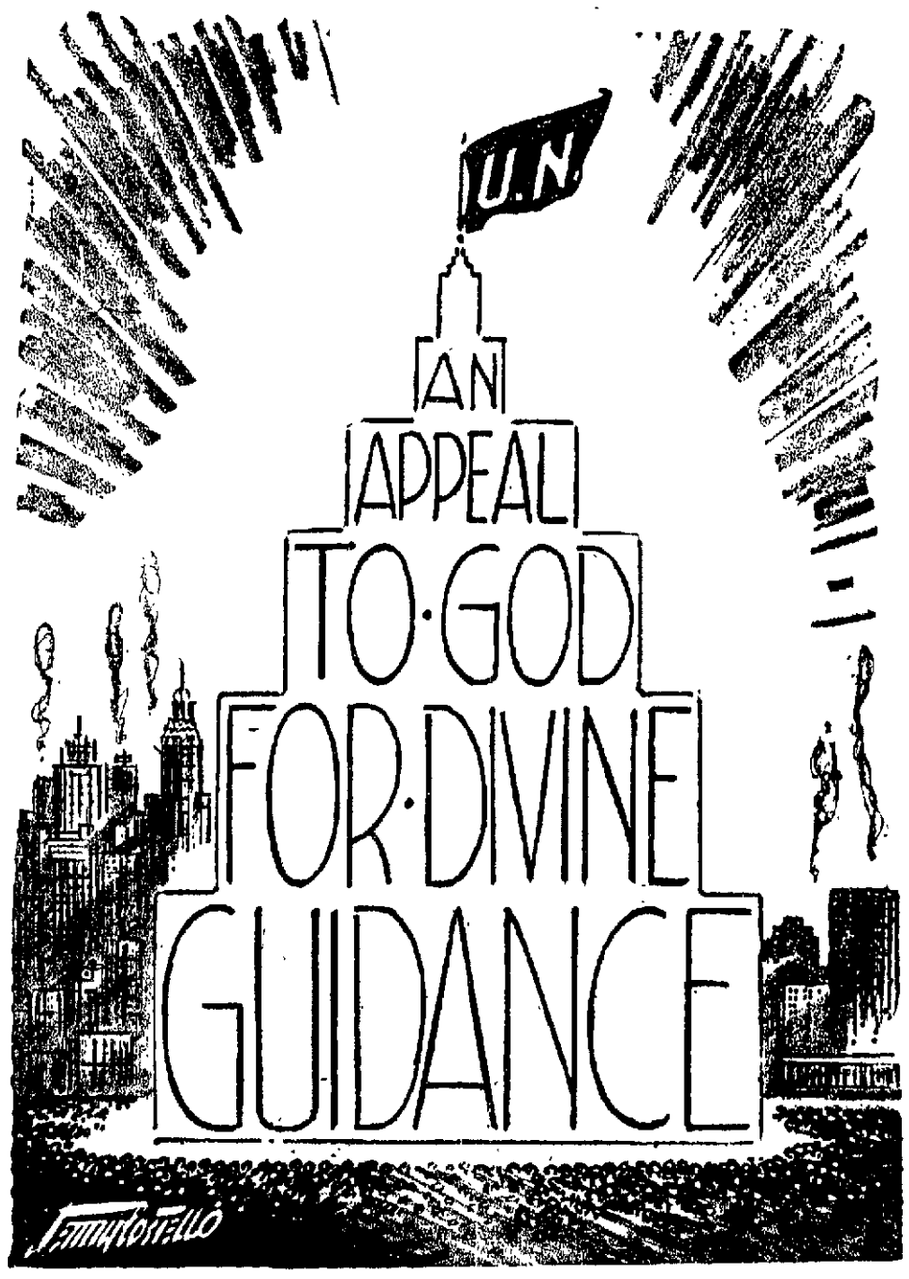
He observed that, although the art of rain-making is in its formative stages, "I have become convinced it is possible under proper circumstances". He added that he knows many persons are not convinced of it yet.

"We're on the threshold where man for the first time has begun to affect the weather in which he lives," Dr. Bush continued. "No man can tell today where it may end."

In approving the idea of a federal agency in the rain-making field, Dr. Bush explained he did not mean that reputable groups should be excluded from carrying on their experiments, because "we need competition" in the field.

But he pointed out that rain-making in one area could affect the weather in another, and therefore there should be some federal regulation.

One More Building Needed



Next Move In Korea Up To U.N. Leaders

By David Lawrence

AMERICAN leadership in the United Nations will have to be exerted promptly if the military expedition in Korea is not to become enmeshed in a strait jacket of political inhibitions.

The spectacle of a military force hemmed in by political considerations in the midst of a battle is unprecedented in history—and, what is worse, the considerations which are influencing the outcome are hidden from view.

When General MacArthur, in his cabled answer to the question propounded by Hugh Baillie of the United Press, states to all the world that neither the 38th Parallel nor any other line across the peninsula favors "positional warfare", he is, in effect, declaring that there must be a continuous war of maneuver "unless the situation is radically altered".

He adds that the problem involved "requires more fundamental decisions than are within my authority or responsibility to make as the military commander—decisions which must not ignore the heavy cost in Allied blood which a protracted and indecisive campaign would entail".

THE GENERAL always has chosen his words carefully in answering queries, and here is vast significance in the idea he has sought to convey by his latest message.

Unquestionably, if there is no place to take up a position defensively on any line across the Korean peninsula, the only two things left to do are to continue indefinitely an indecisive war of maneuver, or to push ahead to the Yalu River with enough troops and air bombardment of bases across the Manchurian border to protect our advancing armies.

What General MacArthur is saying, from his long experience as a strategist, is that the offensive he undertook last November was logical on the assumption that Red China would stay out, but that, without the right to strike at the enemy's bases and supply lines across the Machurian border, it would be a mistake now to try this.

He implies, moreover, that the U.N. cannot indefinitely subject Allied armies in Korea to a long war without defining more explicitly its objectives and without removing some of the barriers that stand between the U.N. forces and ultimate victory—namely, as he calls it, "the accomplishment of our mission in the unification of Korea".

The principal barrier is the supposed unwillingness of a majority of the U.N. to permit U.N. forces to achieve their real objective, which is to drive the Red Chinese out of Korea, even if it means fighting the Communists north as well as south of the Yalu River. Just why Red Chinese troops cannot be killed north of the boundary, but can be killed in large numbers south of that line, is inexplicable.

IT IS IMPORTANT also to bear in mind that, if permission to bomb bases north of the Manchurian border is not to be granted by the U.N., then our forces must remain far enough south of the Yalu River to allow for a field of fire for our airplanes against enemy supply lines. This is but another way of saying that, without the right to bombard across the Manchurian boundary, the U.N. forces are committed indefinitely to what General MacArthur calls a war of maneuver.

What then will happen? Must the U.N. forces stay there for months and perhaps years? The answer will be forthcoming in a few weeks when the snow thaws and the mud bogs down the movements of troops, and when the enemy will be able to move without so much fear of air attack, inasmuch as flying weather gets bad soon. A decision will come then, and if the Red Chinese get a beating, peace may ensue.

The viewpoint held in high quarters is that Red China already has been checked in southeast Asia, in Formosa, and in Tibet and cannot indefinitely keep up the fight in Korea and that, before the end of 1951, another negotiation will develop on Chinese initiative and that a settlement which will vindicate the U.N. will be forthcoming.

But, until that time, it is important that no obstacles be placed in the way of General MacArthur's forces to move up and down across the 38th Parallel, and even beyond within safe range of his protecting air support.

Torture By Plan

That's Picture Of Life In Soviet Labor Camp

LAKE SUCCESS

UNITED NATIONS delegates studying a chilling picture of systematic torture and starvation in Soviet slave labor camps as painted by reputedly authentic Russian documents.

The documents, produced on the heels of a British-American challenge to Russia to approve an investigation of slave labor in the U.S.S.R. or by silence confess her guilt, were submitted to the U.N. Economic and Social Council by representatives of the world's free labor unions.

The International Federation of Free Trade Unions presented the Soviet documents as proof of the West's charges that Russia's leaders have enslaved and tortured millions of fellow humans.

One of the documents gave detailed orders for a Soviet forced labor camp's supplies. The orders, issued in 1937, prescribed to the ounce the amount of food for each type of prisoner, and detailed what punishment should be meted out for waste or theft.

The regulation prescribed 1,292 calories as the base for the average worker who does not meet production quotas. U. S. standards for a 154-pound, non-physical worker call for a 2,500-calorie minimum.

The same set of orders specified that "one grown-up young dog over six months of age" should get a daily ration of 1,184 calories.

The instructions provided for small increases in rations for workers exceeding production quotas.

An accompanying analysis was presented by an American group called the "Commission of Inquiry into Forced Labor", headed by Dr. Harry Gideonse, president of Brooklyn College.

"Here we have, said the analysis, "from official Soviet sources, the absolute substantiation of the charges we previously have made against the Soviet Union and its forced labor system—namely, that a deliberate program of starvation, inhumanity and brutality are characteristic of the system.

"Obviously the caloric analysis of the rations indicates a deliberate plan to force workers to attempt to work beyond the limits of physical endurance in order to get some additional food necessary for the maintenance of life."

Newest Note In Telecasts

VIDEO'S latest feature is "The Headless Man", an act first introduced by Frank Costello, the faceless star. The Kefauver crime quiz in New York ruled that witnesses honestly objecting to telecasts may have their faces blocked out of the photography.

The novelty of the week came when, on some telecasts, Costello was only shown in the chest, forearms and fingers, while another video station merely flashed a closeup of a tumbler of water and a water pitcher whenever Frankie was speaking. The tumbler did well, but it was obvious that the jug was introduced as a stand-in without proper auditioning. It kept coming on and off the screen. (Followers of the crime probe expected to hear it refuse to answer on the ground something would incriminate or degrade it any minute.)

Never before did telecasters realize the powers of expression in wrists and fingers. There were times when Costello's fingers, twisting a piece of paper, seemed to give a more eloquent idea of his reactions than his face could have given. There is such a thing as a deadpan facial expression, but it is rare in fingers. If witnesses are to get results from this routine, they will have to learn how to make their fingertips clam up, we believe.

THE KEFAUVER COMMITTEE proceedings have given television directors a brand new idea. They are realizing what the audiences have been saying for a long time—that many a video performer would be just as satisfactory with his head off. It is even possible a "Faceless star" routine will follow on all video programs. You may be able to get on a television broadcast with nothing more than 10 fingers, a clean shirt front, and a pair of photogenic wrists. And have a decanter and a highball glass as stand-ins when you get especially shy.

Costello goes into video history as the first person ever to refuse a chance to get into television, even as a guest star. We have an idea he didn't like the master of ceremonies, although it may have been that he was playing a trick on his attorney. Much of the time when Costello was being grilled, the face of his counsel, Mr. Wolf, was telecast, and there are millions of video fans who are still under the idea the lawyer is the alleged No. 1 target in the racketeer hunt. We think it served the attorney right. He put Frank in bad with the senators, excoriating them as double crossers and picturing Costello as the most persecuted man since the days of Nero.

Be that as it may, the invisible Video star definitely has arrived via the outside aerials. How far it will go remains to be seen. Personally, if we were on the stand, we would feel more nervous going into millions of homes and saloons with our head missing than with it on. But people are funny.

YE GOTHAM BUGLE & BANNER

"After leaving school in fourth grade, did you go to work?" the Senate probers asked Frank Erickson. "I refuse to answer on the ground it might tend to incriminate and degrade me," was Erickson's reply! . . . Buster Keaton, a top pantomime star in movies many years ago, made a great comeback on the "This is Show Business" program the other night. . . . Why did Jack Pearl on "The Big Show" cling to a routine, word for word, he used in 125th Street burlesque houses in the early 20's?

"Costello is the kind of man who, if he took nine strokes, would put nine on his golf card," said a Kefauver probe witness. Most men would think a nine would certainly incriminate and degrade them. . . . "Liquor Men Deny Liquor is a Luxury"—headline. At present prices a lone snifter seems de luxe. . . . Golden Trend paid $47 to place and Ghost Talk $20.60 to finish second the other day. Shudda Haddim has a terrific wail concerning them. "I start the day cautious and play Kandycal to place. He wins and pays in telephone numbers. So I decide there is no sense in bein' timid and I go to Golden Trend and Ghost Talk on the nose!" he sobs. "There's no justice." Suggestion for titles for the Kefauver show on video: "Muggs for a Day," "Leave It to the Punks," "120 Questions."

It's Same Old Story, Big 4 Aids Get Nowhere

PARIS, March 17 (AP)—The deputy foreign ministers met for nearly two hours today, but wound up their second week of discussions still unable to agree on what subjects should come before a "Big Four" foreign ministers' conference.

They agreed to meet again Monday—for the 13th time—in an effort to get together on an agenda.

Conference officials said the western deputies were unable to get any concessions today out of Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko.

Nellie DeLong Of Wellsville Weds In Ceremony At Home

ONLY THE immediate families witnessed a single-ring ceremony at 9 o'clock Wednesday night uniting Miss Nellie Mae DeLong of Wellsville R. D. 1, and Carl Ernest George Jr. of Mt. Storm, W. Va.

The home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dean Franklin DeLong, was the scene of the nuptials. Potted red and white tulips and red rosebuds formed the floral setting for the exchange of vows heard by Rev. Paul Bailey, pastor of the Boyce Methodist Church.

The bride wore a poudre blue street-length dress with black accessories and carried a white Bible topped with gardenias and pink carnations.

Mrs. William Talbott of Glasgow, matron of honor, wore a fuchsia street-length dress with black accessories and a corsage of while carnations. Mr. Talbott was best man.

The bride's mother was attired in a brown suit with matching accessories and a corsage of pink carnations and baby blue iris.

A two-tiered wedding cake, topped with the traditional bridal pair, centered the bride's table for the dinner that followed. The event also observed the third wedding anniversary of the bride's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Dean F. DeLong Jr., and the sixth birthday anniversary of her younger brother, Larry.

MRS. C. E. GEORGE JR.
Bride of West Virginian.

The newlyweds will make their home temporarily with Mr. and Mrs Talbott.

The bride is a senior at Wellsville High School. Her husband, the son of Carl E George of Mt. Storm, is an Army veteran. Since his discharge six months ago, he has been employed at the Sterling China Co.

Grow of the Second Christian, "Suffering," fifth word; Rev. George E. Lynch of the Oakland church, "Victory," sixth word; and Rev. Albert H. McLain of the Second Presbyterian, "Refuge," seventh word.

All Wellsville churches will unite for the service from 1:30 to 3 p. m. in the First Methodist Church. Rev. George L. Waldon, of the Christian Church will be the speaker and other ministers will assist.

The program follows:

Prelude, Miss Frances Moore; invocation, Rev. J C Little of First Presbyterian; responsive reading, Rev. W. E Speaker of Central Methodist, vocal duet, "Were You There?" Mrs Wilbur Terry and Mrs. George Elliott; Scripture reading, Rev W. E. Tilton of First Methodist; solo, Mrs. Jesse McLain; prayer, Rev. L. N. Lemmon of Second Presbyterian, sermon, Rev. Waldon; benediction, Rev. James B Williams of First Baptist, and postlude, Miss Moore.

The community service of Chester churches in the Presbyterian Church from 1:30 to 3 p. m. will be based upon the "Seven Words".

The speakers and the order which they appear follows

A. C. Wilson of United Presbyterian, Rev. C. T Weimer of Presbyterian, Rev. A. F. Hanes of Christian, Rev. M. V Stone of Methodist, Rev. Lewis Legg of Church of Nazarene, Rev. Harold G Gregory of Pughtown Christian, and Rev. J P Atkinson of the Free Methodist.

Mrs Lee Copenhaver Jr. will sing "It Is Finished" (Wessel), and Claude Ankrom will give "Were You There?" Mrs. Theodore Martin, organist, will play "Processional to Calvary" from Stainer's "Crucifixion" for the prelude.

PALM SUNDAY—By the beginning of the Passion Week, the stage had been set for the rapid sequence of events that were to reach their climax in the Crucifixion. The growing enmity of the Pharisees toward Jesus had reached a pitch of desperation with His raising of Lazarus from the dead. After this, Jesus had left Bethany but He returned six days before the passover and dined with Lazarus.

Many persons had heard of His coming and, beating palm branches, were waiting the following day to hail Him as He rode into Jerusalem on a young ass. It was on this day He said, "Now is the judgment of this world: now shall the prince of this world be cast out. And I, if I be lifted up from the earth, will draw all men unto me." (St. John XII: 31, 32.)

Confident Living

By NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

Don't Manufacture Your Own Unhappiness

OBVIOUSLY the world is full of reasons for unhappiness and dissatisfaction and great concern. But hasn't this always been the case? The Bible tells us that in the world we shall have tribulation, but it also tells us to be of good cheer because we can overcome the world. In other words, you can manufacture your own happiness, as well as your own unhappiness.

How do you go about it" A first and most important thing, if you are unhappy is to study the sources of your unhappiness. There are many people who may be characterized as "the bewildered unhappy" because they are unhappy and do not know why they feel unhappiness. Often, to outsider, there would seem to be no reason for anything but bliss and joy, yet these people are filled with insecurity and agitation. Human nature is complicated and only now are we really beginning to acquire a deep understanding of it. We have developed techniques of psychology, of psychiatry, of analysis, of counselling to help people to understand why they are unhappy.

Dr. Peale

Some people are capable of seeing this clearly without any help. Others need help, some desperately. If you are persistently unhappy, go to your doctor or to your pastor, priest or rabbi. They can advise you where to find the help you need. In many cases the present-day clergyman is skilled in meeting personality problems.

Once you have found the sources of your unhappiness, you are ready for the second step. I have called that step "the art of real happiness". It is simple and easy to understand. It is to combine with your newly-acquired understanding of the sources of your unhappiness a real faith in God and a genuine practice—note the emphasis, PRACTICE—of your religion in every aspect of your daily life. If you do not know how to do this, consult your minister.

This is a problem every individual must face at one time or another. Face it frankly and you can stop manufacturing your own unhappiness. Get to the roots of it, understand it, and correct it. Learn and practice the techniques of a workable faith. Then, and then only, can you find real happiness.

Dutch Program Holds More Guns, Less Butter

THE HAGUE, March 17 (AP)—Premier Willem Drees unfolded to parliament and the nation today his new cabinet program of more guns and less butter.

His announcement that the reduction of subsidies and price increases of sugar, cereals, bread, fats and other commodities will go into effect immediately brought home to the 10 million Dutchmen the period of austerity that lies before them.

The Laborite premier outlined the following expansion of Holland's defense program:

▶Conscription will be increased from 12 to 18 months to provide units under arms for the North Atlantic forces.

▶For the next four years the defense budget will be set at 1,500,000,000 guilders ($400,000,000) annually instead of 1,000,000,000 guilders ($263,000,000) as planned.

▶Efforts will be made to build up the defense production for domestic needs and for Holland's North Atlantic partners.

4-H Club News

"POSTURE and Good Grooming" was the theme for a meeting of the Ellwood 4-H Club Thursday night at the home of Mrs. Walter Anderson near Congo.

The group made plans for a bake sale March 24, at the Thornberry Brothers Grocery in Newell. Reports were given by four third-year members who accompanied the leader to a four-county style show Wednesday in Wheeling. They were Mary Ann Keller, Barbara, Emma Mae and Jo-Ann Anderson.

Games and songs were pastimes following a program presented by James Grimm, Johnny Conway, Mary Ann Keller, Ruth Talbott, Geneva Freeland, June Talbott, Bill Good and Barbara, Emma Mae, Patty Lee, Walter and Jo-Ann Anderson.

Mrs Anderson served lunch, assisted by her daughter, Patty Lee. The next meeting will be March 28, with Mrs. Anderson.

Czechs Tossed Out

VATICAN CITY, March 17—The Catholic Church today excommunicated all persons who had a part in the banishment of Archbishop Josef Beran of Prague and who participated in other acts against the church in Czechoslovakia.

One of television's pioneers, the late C. Francis Jenkins, began his experiments as far back as 1890.

Choir Will Give Maunder's 'Penitence, Pardon And Peace'

A CANTATA, "Penitence, Pardon and Peace" (Maunder) will be sung by the choir at the First Church of Christ Thursday at 7:30 p. m. to feature the observance of Holy Week.

The anniversary of the Lord's Supper will be celebrated in a candlelight service. The decorations will be in charge of a committee headed by Mrs. Hazel Neiser.

There will be special music for Palm Sunday at the 10:30 a. m. service. Robert Nicholson and the choir will sing an anthem, "Jerusalem" (Parker), and a tenor solo, "The Palms" (Faure), will be given by C. Lloyd Deffenbaugh.

Mr. and Mrs. William Osborne, Miss Ruth North, William Jones, Mrs. Geraldine King and Alfred Boulton will furnish the music for the Communion service. Rev. D. Park Chapman will discuss "Christianity is More than Shouting". The service will be broadcast by WOHI.

The sermon at 7 30 p. m. will be "New Creatures in Christ". The Christian Endeavor Society will meet at 6:30 p. m.

Redecoration of the auditorium and social rooms has started. The exterior woodwork is to be repainted this spring.

G.I. Does Everything Wrong When He Tries To Rob Bank

SAN FRANCISCO, March 17 (AP)—A love-sick and frightened Air Force corporal tried to rob a bank—but succeeded only in creating a comedy of errors.

Still frightened, Corporal James H. Wheelock, was in city jail last night charged with suspicion of robbery, suspicion of kidnaping and with the routine booking charges of "en route to U.S. marshal" and "en route to U.S. Army".

He tried to hold up a branch of the Bank of America.

The job went all wrong. A girl clerk saw his .38 revolver. She told the manager and the manager called police.

The police already were on the way when Corporal Wheelock came out the door, using Teller Joseph Rogers as a hostage. The corporal abandoned his hostage and ran to his car, which he had locked. In his hurry he couldn't get the door open.

Frantically, the youth left his own car and jumped into one occupied by Rod Nelson

"Drive off!" Corporal Wheelock ordered.

"Sorry, no wheels," replied Mr. Nelson. The car was on blocks Mr. Nelson was in the midst of changing a broken axle.

Another car drove up and Corporal Wheelock jumped into that —right beside Police Officer Alfred Thorington, who was answering a radio call that the bank was being robbed.

As policeman and corporal grappled, the police car nearly ran down Motorcycle Patrolman James Mahoney who also was answering the robbery call. Officer Mahoney pressed his pistol against Corporal Wheelock's back and the youth gave up.

In his pockets was $2.61, 50 revolver cartridges and $2,100 he had obtained at the bank. His explanation: "I was flat broke and needed money so I could get married. I'll never tell who my girl was."

The first machine ever used in making shoes was a clamping press invented to attach leather soles to shoe uppers.

8 A, B Quints Ride Wave Of Upsets Into Ohio Regional Finals

Tonight's Winners Gain State Meet

By FRITZ HOWELL

COLUMBUS, O., March 17 (AP)—Eight teams rode a wave of upsets today into each division of the Class A and Class B regional finals of the Ohio High School basketball championship race.

The winners tonight win a ticket to the state finals at the State Fairground Coliseum March 29, 30, 31. And after last night's set of unexpected results, most anything can occur

Three former Class A champions—Portsmouth, Dayton Stivers and Findlay—were batted out of the running in the semi-final affairs, Findlay's 50-39 loss to Columbus East erasing the last of the unbeaten quintets in that sector.

Findlay had won 22 in a row, and 106 of the last 111, before running into the red hot Columbus team. In the other Toledo contest the result was even more sensational, Lima Central ignoring a 12-7 record to hand Mansfield's terrific Tygers their third loss in 25 starts, 63-58.

At Troy the results ran true to form as Hamilton's Big Blue, rated No. 1 in the Associated Press poll, polished off Portsmouth's 1931 champions by 48-40, and Springfield's defending titleholders smothered Dayton Stivers' four-time state champs under a 67-39 avalanche.

Canton McKinley, which has reached the state championship game four times without winning a title, upset favored Girard 43-37 at Youngstown. It was McKinley's 16th win in 23 games, and Girard's third loss in 26. Martins Ferry, the 1941 champ, whipped Youngstown Rayen, 54-38, to earn the right to meet Canton McKinley in the finals.

In Kent's Class A semi-finals Barberton's Magic rolled to an easy 55-38 win over Euclid, the 21st victory in 22 starts. Coventry, a 10-point loser to Barberton in the district finals, moved into the regional playoff against the Magics with a 56-48 victory over Elyria.

Upsets marked the Class B semi-finals at Dayton as Marysville won its 19th in 23 starts over Olive Branch, which had lost two of 29, by 59-54, and Lockland Wayne nosed out Blanchester, 34-33. Wayne, losing state finalist in 1949, had lost five of 22 games, while Blanchester had been beaten but once in 21. The previous loss was to Wayne, too.

In Class B at Athens, Ashley moved into the finals against Corning (27-1) with a 73-64 win over New Matamoras, the 25th victory in 27 starts.

The semi-finalists in tonight's Class A battles have won 153 and lost 32 games, while the Class B survivors have won 192 and lost 17.

Simmons Biggest Loss

Brittin, Rookie Twirler Could Be Answer To Phils' Pitching Problems

By FRANK ECK, AP Newsfeatures Sports Editor

CLEARWATER, Fla.—A boy who walked into Memorial Stadium at Terre Haute, Ind., looking for a job four years ago could be the answer to Manager Eddie Sawyer's pitching problems.

When the Philadelphia Phillies lost Curt Simmons to the Army last September they lost 17 games. The National League champions will have a hard time making up those games and even Sawyer admits that. However, remember John Brittin Brittin may be another Bubba Church or a Bob Miller, two 1950 rookies who picked up slack by accounting for 19 decisions.

Brittin, 26, has the best chance of the seven rookie pitchers here who are trying to crash the big leagues. At least that's the word from Coach Cy Perkins, a great catcher in his day, and also from Johnny Nee, chief scout.

To begin with you must discount Brittin's 7-11 record with Toronto. The Maple Leafs finished seventh in the International League. He walked 97 men in 141 innings, too.

"That was my trouble," says Brittin. "I walked too many. But Cy Perkins and Benny Bengough have been catching me and both are a big help. Cy has been telling me things that I should have been told before. I was doing some things wrong and Cy straightened me out.

"I sure got a chance to make this club and I'm giving it everything I've got."

HOW MANAGER SAWYER SEES HIS PHILLIES

Pitching—Good Nucleus

Catching—Reinforced

Infield—Better reserves

Outfield—Stronger bench

Hitting—Must be better

Finish—Brooklyn team to beat

JOHN BRITTIN

Best of newcomers

When he showed up at Terre Haute the Phillies gave him a chance on the strength of his pitching at the University of Illinois. That spring he went to the NCAA tournament at New Haven, Conn., with the Illini but lost to NYU, 2-1, in the semi-finals. His college record was 7-2.

"I had a bad arm in '47" offers Brittin. "After I got out of the Navy I tried to pitch too soon and pulled a shoulder tendon."

Brittin, who comes from Springfield, Ill., spent two and a half years in the service and saw LST duty as an ensign for 10 months during the Okinawa campaign.

The 185-pound 5-11 right hander throws "mostly fast balls". He has a good curve and is now working on a change up pitch. On occasion he'll throw a knuckler just to keep the hitters off stride.

Brittin has the head and the arm. The rest is up to his control.

Charleston, Beckley Clash Today For West Virginia 'A' Cage Crown

MORGANTOWN, W. Va., March 17 (AP)—Charleston and Beckley, arch southern rivals with height, poise and scoring punch aplenty, collided here at 2 p. m. today for the state's 38th Class A schoolboy basketball title.

Beckley's 67-43 trampling of Clarksburg Victory and Charleston's 78-60 walloping of Morgantown still were somewhat overshadowed as the final round approached, however, by a 38-point individual outburst by Morgantown's Charley Huggins. He apparently set some record.

The slender forward's red-hot exhibition, accomplished with as many as three defenders blanketing him at times, was regarded unofficially, at least, as a new single-game total for a Class A state meet game.

It topped the 34 counters thrown in by Richwood's Tuck Wilt in an overtime, semi-final loss to Wheeling a year ago, but still was below the recognized mark for Class B play.

That record—40 points—is held by Jack Conrad of Glenville. He ran that total in 1941 as his team dumped Athens, 85-61, in the title contest.

Huggins—who banged in 11 of 25 shots from the floor while Morgantown as a whole was netting only 19 of 66—also tallied 16 straight free throws after missing his first effort. He ended up, tired and beaten, by missing his final three charity tosses.

The Red and Blue sharpshooter actually needed his record performance to outdistance a spectacular 32-point splurge by Beckley's 6-6 Willie Bergines in last night's first semi-final.

Moving with fluid grace beneath the backboards, Bergines dropped in 14 of 21 shots; had 18 points by halftime to lead Beckley to an overwhelming 31-17 halftime edge, and counted 12 of the Eagles' 15 points in the second period alone.

Both Victory and Morgantown fought in vain against big height disadvantages. Their shooting percentages reflected their troubles in getting good shots.

Victory could cage only 14 of 71 attempts from the floor, Beckley, on the other hand, slammed in 24 of 59 attempts, and Charleston, with four men in double figures, made good 32 of 66.

Beckley and Charleston both were in front all the way. The latter quintet was sparked by Sophomore Rod Hundley's 29 points, with little Theo Field contributing 18 Bill Grubb 11 and Eddie Knowles, the speedy driving leader of the fast break, 10.

Bill Turner was Beckley's second high-point getter with 12 points, although he was the only Eagle starter beneath six feet.

Joe Tenda led Victory's completely outgunned machine by also grabbing 12 counters. Huggins was the only Morgantown performer in the double-figure class

While Beckley got off to a 16-10, first-period edge and continued to pull away, Charleston had to beat back one brief Morgantown surge early in the second frame after holding a 17-13 edge at the end of the first canto

Two fielders and a free throw by Huggins had Morgantown Coach Art Clyde's men within three points at 23-20 with 5:15 remaining before the half, but that proved to be their last serious threat. Hundley, Field and Grubbs quickly ran the count to 31-20, and the fast-moving charges of Clay Martin drove on to a 37-26 halftime advantage.

That was pushed to 62-45 at the three-quarter mark despite the ever-battling Huggins. At one time in the last quarter Charleston held a 20-point advantage at 66-46.

Charleston, a 49-47 winner over Beckley early in the season at Beckley, was seeking its fourth state crown, but its first since 1924. The Mountain Lions also won in 1915 and 1919.

Beckley, which had Coach Jerome Van Meter's 15th state tournament contender in his 22 years at the Eagle helm, had won just once before, in 1946.

In addition to Bergines, Beckley was expected to have the 6-4 Julius Cladwell, 6-2 Bob Davis and probably 6-foot Bob Crews in its starting cast along with the fast little Turner.

Charleston's height was concentrated in the 6-3½ Grubbs, who had five goals in as many shots against Morgantown, and the 6-3½ Hundley and Crutchfield.

Bergines took the court with 56 points in two games.

Y-Industrial League Lead Still Snarled

Homer Laughlin	4	0
Edwin M. Knowles	4	0
Harker Potters	2	1
Hall China Decorators	1	2
Taylor, Smith & Taylor	0	3
Knights of Columbus	0	3
Wellsville China	0	3

The Y. M. C. A. Industrial Basketball League's second half race remained snarled after Friday night's action as Homer Laughlin and Edwin M. Knowles kept an unbeaten pace with Hall China's Independents who won their third straight on Thursday night

Laughlin's whipped Knights of Columbus, 51-37, as Don Lowe flipped in 20 points, and Knowles downed Wellsville China, 44-30, with Green meshing 18.

In the other game, Hall China Decorators trounced Taylor, Smith & Taylor, 66-32, as Seevers pocketed 25 markers, and Heddleston and Talbott each bagged 16.

SALEM, W. Va., March 17 (AP)—Carl W. Mallon, athletic director at Salem College for the past six years, announced yesterday he was resigning effective at the end of the school year June 1.

Local Men To Attend Ohio Hot Stove Meeting

Lawrence J. Zollinger, a commissioner of the Ohio Hot Stove League, and Kenneth Browning will attend a meeting of state Hot Stove League officers Sunday at 2 p. m. in the Akron Y. M. C. A.

Plans for definite sites for district and state tournaments will be made. The Newell American Legion, representing the East Liverpool league, is the defending champion.

"Little League" baseball also will be considered and a discussion also will be held on the date set for the age change in all leagues.

Palestine Bills Harlem Aces, House Of David

EAST PALESTINE, March 17 (Special)—The Harlem Aces and the House of David will play in the feature attraction of a cage double-header at the High School gym Monday night.

East Palestine Merchants will meet Eastbrook, Pa., in the preliminary starting at 7:15.

Tribe Pressed To Beat San Diego Club, 10-6

SAN DIEGO, Calif., March 17 (AP)—The Cleveland Indians had trouble with their San Diego farm hands last night. Orestes Minoso, lately of San Diego, hit a homer with the bases loaded in the ninth to put Cleveland ahead, 6-5. But the Padres tied the score in the same inning against Bob Chakales, and it took a homer by Bob Kennedy to fire a rally in the 13th to give the Indians a 10-6 victory.

Sad Sam Jones, San Diego's pride, did a good job against the Indians. He kept the regulars quiet with four hits, one run and struck out four and walked five in the six innings he pitched.

Incidentally, Al Rosen is troubled with a pulled back muscle.

Fairview Grabs W. Va. 'B' Crown

MORGANTOWN, W. Va., March 17 (AP)—Fairview High School reigned today as the new state Class B scholastic basketball champion.

The Marion county quintet won the title yesterday afternoon by taking a thrilling 42-40 decision from Greenbank, which previously had won 27 straight and was the state's only unbeaten team.

Fairview, which used only five men in the game, had to beat down a determined rally by the Pocahontas county five in the closing minutes

Trailing, 40-27, at the end of three periods, the jittery Greenbank Eagles seemed thoroughly beaten. But they clicked in the fourth and outscored Fairview, 13-2, over the final eight minutes.

Bruce Bosley bucketed a free throw with five seconds left in the game to bring the Eagles within two points of Fairview at 42-40. Greenbank waived a second free throw awarded Bosley and took the ball out of bounds.

The Eagles' last chance of forcing the title clash into overtime went down the drain when Ken Shears' shot for the basket went wild as the game ended.

Mike Marko was the scoring star for Fairview with 17 points. He shared honors with Bill Sutton of the losers, who also made 17.

The two teams earned their finals berths by winning area tournaments last week. Fairview came here with a 23-3 record.

Each placed two men on the all-star team selected on the basis of play in the four-team Area tournaments. Selected from Fairview were Merico and Jack Binnez. Greenbank was represented by Sutton and Bosley.

Other selections were: Ron Laneve, Newell; Bernie Morgan, Oceana; Delmar Dixon, Sissonville, and Robert Delligatti, Kingwood.

Lew Worsham Snares Jacksonville Golf Lead

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., March 17 (AP)—Lew Worsham, who had a couple lean years after winning the National Open in 1947, is back on his golf game.

Already winner of one tournament on the winter circuit, the 33-year-old Worsham of Oakmont, Pa., did better than anyone else in a field of 158 toward solving the tricky, rolling Hyde Park Golf course in yesterday's first round of the $10,000 Jacksonville Open.

He shot 33-34—67, five under par for the 6,508 yard layout.

Just a stroke away were Jim Ferrier, Australian born professional from San Francisco, and Jack Shields of Cedar Rapids, Iowa.

Reds May Put Litwhiler Back On Active List

TAMPA, Fla., March 17 (AP)—If Cincinnati's Reds fail in their all-out search for an experienced outfielder who can hit slightly more than his weight, look for them to put Coach Danny Litwhiler back on the active list.

Defensively, Danny leaves much to be desired, but he has what the Reds need badly—good right-handed power.

The Reds, meantime, were continuing to look rather woeful in spring exhibition games. They dropped one yesterday to the St. Louis Cardinals, 7-6, in a loosely-played contest. It was simply a case of too much Stan Musial as the great Redbird star drove in four runs with as many hits, including a booming triple and a two-hit double.

Cincinnati plays the Phillies here today

Dodgers Rookie Stars

MIAMI, Fla., March 17 (AP)—Rocky Bridges, 23-year-old rookie infielder, has a good chance of sticking with the Brooklyn Dodgers. Bridges, hailed as another "Ed Stanky" can play third, second or short. He's been hitting at a good clip in exhibition games and always was a good fielder.

Yank Hurler Sidelined

LOS ANGELES, March 17—Allie Reynolds, New York Yankee World Series star, may be sidelined a few days with a sore elbow.

Reynolds complained yesterday of aches in his right arm. Dr. Sidney Gaynor of the Yanks diagnosed the ailment an inflamation of the right elbow.

Stanky Breaks Wrist

MIAMI, Fla., March 17 (AP)—Eddie Stanky, New York Giants' second baseman, may be out of action for at least ten days. Stanky broke a small bone in his left wrist Thursday.

Herman May Scout

OAKLAND, Calif., March 17 (AP)—Babe Herman may be asked to return to scouting duties for the Pittsburgh Pirates instead of coaching at first base.

The reason: Bob Clements, western supervisor for the Pirate farm and scouting system, is returning to active duty with the Army Air Corps.

Tigers Not So Hot

LAKELAND, Fla., March 17 (AP)—The Detroit Tigers are upholding American League honor okey but otherwise they're not doing so well where it might count.

In spring exhibition games Detroit (2-3) has beaten the National League's St. Louis Cards and Cincinnati Reds.

In the American, however, they've lost twice to the Boston Red Sox, among the title favorites. They've also lost to the Washington Senators.

5 Point Choice Over Dayton

NEW YORK, March 17 (AP)—Brigham Young and Dayton battle tonight for the championship of the National Invitation Basketball Tournament in a game that promises to be a close battle all the way.

Brigham Young, champion of the Skyline Conference, was expected to be favored by about five points, but there is little doubt that Dayton is the sentimental choice.

A turnout of close to 18,000, the largest of the tourney, was expected at Madison Square Garden to see if Brigham Young's poise would suffice to overcome Dayton's fiery team spirit.

The game is the second of a double-header. St. John's of Brooklyn and Seton Hall, beaten in Thursday's semi-finals, start the evening's activities at 7:45 p. m. to determine third place.

Previously little known outside Ohio, unseeded Dayton has become the Cinderella team of the 1951 tourney. The Flyers' 69-62 overtime victory over top-seeded St. John's on Thursday won the admiration of thousands of New Yorkers. They can be expected to cheer for the Ohioans. In addition, several hundred Dayton fans made the trip here to root for their favorites

Nat Holman, whose CCNY team beat Bradley in last year's final, thinks BYU will win.

"I like the fight of this Dayton team, but I think Brigham Young simply has too much class."

However, Dayton Coach Tom Blackburn is conceding nothing. "We may have to play better than we did against St. John's to win," he said, giving the impression that his boys would do that very thing.

As for BYU, Coach Stanley Watts declared "we have an eye on that grand slam". That means he thinks his team will not only win tonight, but go on and take the NCAA tourney.

DODGE'N AROUND

March 17th is certainly a great day for the Irish, and it is nothing short of remarkable the number of people who on this day claim their origin from the "Old Sod". With the exception of "The Pied Piper of Hamlin", we don't know of anyone that got so much publicity for destroying rodents as the good St. Patrick. The part of this that intrigues us is the fact that down through the centuries so much importance could be attached to this bit of a legend that it would exist unto this day.

We take off our hat to the Irish, though, for the many contributions they have made to our civilization, and especially at this time to the progress they are making in developing the resources of their native land. In the past it seems all the Irish emigrated to New York and became policemen. Now this trend has been arrested to the point the Irish government is advertising for their people to return home and take up good jobs in industry and agriculture. It would be too much to hope that the Irish would ever make peace with their British cousins, but maybe with the country divided between the North and South they can at least live in relative quiet.

March 17th, or any day in March, would be a good day to consider the purchase of one of Hays Motors recent trade-in cars. Of course we don't deny that we are the only ones who have good clean cars for sale. But we do say that unless you know the car, you had better know something about the reputation of the dealer who is selling the car. It may surprise you how easy it is to own one of these recent models, too. In all probability, your old car will more than make the down payment. These cars will cost you more before they cost you less.

Sincerely,

Bob Hays

Liverpool's Jim Harris Gains All-Ohio Mention

Jim Harris, crack Baldwin-Wallace College guard and a former All-Ohio performer for the East Liverpool Potters, today received honorable mention on the Associated Press All-Ohio College squad.

Two seniors, two juniors and a scintillating sophomore won first team berths on the 1951 team. Ohio Wesleyan's Jud Millhon was voted a forward position for the third straight year, first cager in history to make a three-year sweep of the top honors.

In 1949 Jud scored 533 points in 26 games to land the honors, 554 in 21 games to repeat in 1950, and this year he garnered 529 in 21 games. That gives him 1,616 points for his 68 varsity games, an average of 23.7.

Paired with Millhon at forward is Tom Connor of Muskingum's Ohio conference champions. He wheeled in with 526 points in 23 games.

The center job went to Dayton's sensational junior, Don Meineke, who rated a second team berth a year ago. Meineke, who scored 510 points a year ago, has 635 for 29 games this season.

Guard berths were won by Toledo's Jack Feeman, first sophomore to make the All-Ohio since Millhon did it in '49, and Jim Holstein, Cincinnati junior, who moved up from last year's third team.

ON ALL-STAR TEAM. Ron Laneve, Newell High's scintillating forward, today was placed on the West Virginia High School Class "B" tournament All-Star team. Newell was defeated by Fairview in the Area finals, 58-50, and yesterday Fairview beat Greenbank, 42-40, to capture the state Class "B" championship.

Semi-Finals Slated In 'Y' Church Loops

Semi-finals are scheduled tonight in the Y. M. C. A. Junior Church League playoffs with the first game slated for 6:45.

Competing for the "A" trophy will be First Presbyterian vs. Newell First Presbyterian in the first game and Chester Methodist vs. Second Christian in the 6:55 tussle.

For the "B" trophy, St. Aloysius will meet Anderson Methodist at 7:30 with Boyce Methodist facing Calvary Methodist at 7:40.

Midland Cager Named To Section 9 All-Stars

Anthony Bernardi, sharpshooting Midland High guard, has been selected on the Section 9 All-Star squad as picked by the coaches.

Two teammates, Stan Yukica and Adam Krivoshia, received honorable mention.

Hunting Club Obtains Farm

Camp Sites Offered Scout, 4-H Groups

The Chester-Newell Farmers' and Sportsmen's Club revealed today it has acquired a 135-acre farm for club purposes and is offering camp sites to youth groups.

The tract is in Gas Valley, near Hillcrest Farms and Pennsylvania state line.

Theodore Martin of Chester, vice-president, said plans call for construction of a three-acre lake and remodeling of a five-room bungalow into a clubhouse.

Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts and 4-H clubs have been invited to establish permanent or day camps on the acreage.

It is known as the old Sam Richmond farm. A spring feeds into the valley where the lake is planned.

About five acres are wooded. The remainder once was pasture land, but has grown up over the years, according to L. P. Lutton of Chester, secretary-treasurer.

The club has about 100 members, who will work on the property. C. N. Miller of Newell is president. Further plans will be made at a meeting April 2.

Beagle Club Schedules Fun Trial For Sunday

The East Liverpool Beagle Club will hold its annual fun trial Sunday at the running grounds on the Y. & O. Road. The affair will get underway at 9 a. m.

All members with derbies and all-age dogs are urged to come out. Derbies will be run in the morning, with all-age to follow.

The club welcomes visitors.

'Guests' Of Railroad Given Warm Welcome

TABLE ROCK, Neb. (UP)—The first fire alarm in five months here proved to be a confusing one. The fire had to be brought to the firemen.

An approaching freight train notified station operator J. C. Layden that there was a blaze in one of the cars. When the train stopped, volunteer fire-fighters and train crewmen raced to the smoking car.

Two "free passengers" had started a newspaper fire in the empty car to keep warm. The undamaged car proceeded without them.

Mounted Fish Proves Angler Wasn't Lying

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UP)—There were skeptics when E. S. Prescott Jr. told friends he caught a king-sized mackerel on a fishing trip at Daytona Beach, Fla. Then the mailman arrived with a package.

It was from the taxidermist in Florida. Mr. Prescott had the fish mounted.

Times Have Changed In Industrial World

WINCHENDON, Mass. (UP)—Times have changed since 1830 when these conditions existed in Amasa Whitney's factory:

Work started at 10 minutes before sunrise throughout the year, closed at 10 minutes after sunset during the summer months and at 30 minutes after 8 p. m. during the winter.

Saturday was an "easy" day. The factory closed at sunset.

Workers couldn't leave their jobs during the day without permission from the overseer. Heavy fines were imposed for impeding work or damaging machines.

Lost time had to be made up before a worker could be paid. Four weeks notice had to be given before a man could quit. Otherwise he lost four weeks' pay.

A man given permission to leave the factory was docked a week's pay if he didn't return at the specified time. Reading, eating fruit and unnecessary conversations during working hours was prohibited. Nobody could smoke in the plant.

Whitney was big-hearted, though. He allowed his workers 25 minutes for breakfast, 30 minutes for dinner and 25 for supper.

Handbag Invented To Change Color

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UP) — A handbag that can change color to match a woman's attire is ready for production.

The designer, Bill Hovis, said the handbag primarily is an oblong box-type bag but can be made in all sizes and with a hand strap or shoulder strap.

"The aluminum frame is hinged at the bottom of the four sides and opens flat," Hovis said. "The lining is shaped like the bag and can be lifted out, with its contents intact.

"When you want to change the color, you lay the frame flat over another color of lining and slip the fabric over tiny teeth below the frame sides.

"When you close the bag, the new lining is held lightly in place and the old lining with its contents is placed inside. You have a new bag."

You make the linings yourself to match your dress and accessories. All that is necessary is to flatten the frame over the lining material and snip it out, following the lines of the frame.

Officers Use Rope Trick To Nab Moonshiners

BEATTYVILLE, Ky. (UP)—A treasury agent and a Kentucky sheriff borrowed a leaf from the pages of Tarzan to capture two moonshiners and their still.

The officers, Sheriff Hampton Palmer and the treasury agent, Hollis Gibson, descended on the still operators by climbing down ropes thrown over the face of a 125-foot cliff. They dropped in on Delbert Spencer and George Reece just as the two were starting a fire under the still.

Sheriff Palmer said the haul of the "revenooers" included eight barrels of illicit whisky.

Water Repairs To Cost $6,936

Contract Set Monday For Standpipe Work

The city will sign a $6,936.50 contract Monday for repair of the Water Department's No. 2 standpipe and its maintenance for the next 10 years.

Safety-Service Director Lawrence S. Bloor said enabling legislation for the agreement with the Dixie Tank & Bridge Co. of Memphis will be presented to City Council Monday night.

The contract calls for 711 lineal feet of welding on the plates of the big Henry Ave. tank and welding of 4,275 rivets with corroded heads, the director said.

A representative of the Tennessee company furnished the city with the estimate after a crew completed draining and scraping the tank. The crew came here originally to repair a hole in the No. 1 standpipe.

The work also calls for repainting both the interior and exterior, Mr. Bloor said. The contractor will furnish its own specially prepared paint for the interior, but the city will provide aluminum paint for the outside, he added.

The maintenance contract provides that the company will guarantee the repair work for 10 years and the painting for five years. However, the standpipe must be repainted after five years to make the 10-year guarantee on the repair work effective.

Commerce And Industry Show Declines

But Activity So Far For '51 Leads '50 Despite February Dip

Despite a near-general slump in February business and industry in the East Liverpool district are sailing along at levels well ahead of early 1950, the Chamber of Commerce reported today in its monthly summary.

All nine indices reached highs in the first two months of 1951 that are far above their levels for the comparable period of 1950

But February activity did little to push up the graph—six indices fell off from their January positions while only three chalked up gains

The Chambers comparison shows payrolls in 10 big district plants totaled 26 9 per cent more in January and February than in the first two months of 1950 At the same time employment in those plants went up by 1 6 per cent indicating that the rise in wages paid is the result of full work schedules

The plants paid out $2 788 174 in wages in the first two months of 1951 compared with $2,197 247 in the same period of 1950 Payrolls hit $1 385 362 in February down 1 2 per cent from the $1,402 812 recorded in January

Employment has averaged 6 434 monthly so far in 1951, against 5 335 in the initial two months of 1950 The number of workers fell off from 6 529 in January to 6 339 in February, a decline of 2 9 per cent

Healthy signs in the comparison of the first two months of 1951 were gains in sales tax and postal receipts and a decline in the city s relief case load

Sales tax collections the barometer of retail business rose from $38 443 in January to $39 308 in February a climb of 2 3 per cent They total $77,751 for the first two months of 1951 a gain of 14 5 per cent from the $67 922 shown for the same period of 1950

The city s relief load fell from 113 cases in January to 109 in February a 3 5 per cent drop The case load for the first two months of 1951 averaged 111 a 55 8 per cent slump from the 173 average in the same period of 1950

Postal receipts rose from $16 483 in January to $16 690 in February representing a 1 3 per cent gain They total $33 173 for 1951 s first two months up 1 1 9 per cent from the $20 655 recorded in the same interval of 1950

Inbound railroad carloadings fell to 286 in February compared with 374 in January That s a drop of 23 5 per cent They stand at 660 for the first two months of the year up 27 9 per cent from the 516 shown in the same period of 1950

Meanwhile outbound carloadings dropped from 474 in January to 413 in February a 12 9 per cent decline They total 887 for the first two months of 1951 a gain of 12 3 per cent over the 790 recorded for the similar period of 1950

Bank debits totaled $16 328 511 in February falling off 12 8 per cent from January s $18 734 228 They have averaged $17 531 370 monthly so far in 1951 representing a 22 1 per cent gain over the $14 353 277 average shown in the comparable period of 1950

Bank clearings fell off from $2 653 381 in January to $2 412 022 in February a decline of 9 1 per cent They total $5 065 403 for the first two months of 1951 a gain of 23 5 per cent from the $4 102 850 shown in the comparable period last year

Architect Shows Club Films On New Schools

A film depicting ultra-modern school buildings in Texas and California was screened for fellow members of the Lions Club Friday noon by I Nessley Porter architect

Called Building for Learning the film concentrated on the idea that design of school buildings has not kept pace with improvement is in education methods It stressed that children must have adequate non-glaring light, proper ventilation and freedom from distracting noises

It showed sprawling one-floor designs that took advantage of natural light and ventilation and provided special features like child-size movable furniture

Mr Porter spoke briefly before screening the color film at the club s weekly luncheon meeting in the Travelers Hotel It was produced by Texas A & M College

Leroy Chamberlain designated a key member by Lions International was presented the key by Richard Walker president

Railroaders Catch Up With Runaway Cars

DUNCAN, Okla (UP) — Railroaders on the Rock Island s Oklahoma division have a new argument in their books— how far would seven loaded boxcars that broke loose near Duncan have rolled if a locomotive hadn t caught them?

The cars escaped from a switching crew and rolled through the town, picking up speed steadily while the pursuit was organized

Trainmen tried to head off and board the speeding cars in an automobile but found they had already picked up too much speed on the long downgrade

Eleven miles down the line the locomotive caught the cars latched on with an automatic coupler and braked them to a stop The main line had been cleared as far as Waurika 25 miles ahead where a switch had been opened to detail the cars

Kaycees To Revive Wellsville Scout Troop

Thomas Meadows of the Wellsville Knights of Columbus said a meeting will be held Sunday afternoon at 1 at the Immaculate Conception Parochial School to re-organize a Boy Scout Troop sponsored by the Kaycees several years ago

Mr Meadows urged all youths and interested parents to attend George Satow will be scoutmaster

Bridge Price Rejected

COLUMBUS March 17 – The state bridge commission yesterday rejected a New York firm s bid to sell the state the Ohio River suspension bridge between Cincinnati and Covington, Ky for $3 620 000 The action followed a communication to the commission by Governor Frank J Lausche in which he said the sum asked was too much He advised against buying the bridge

3-Point Plan Offered For Stemming Inflation

CINCINNATI March 17 (AP) The president of the United States Savings and Loan League today offered a three-point program to stem the tide of inflation

Walter J J Ray of Detroit outlined his program before delegates to the annual mid-winter conference here of the American Savings and Loan Institute an educational group of the savings and loan business

Mr Rays three-point proposal is (1) a reduction of expenditures of the federal government to a level where they can be met by only moderate tax increases (2) abandonment of the cheap money policy by the government (3) a strong and vigorous rise in personal individual savings

Mr Ray insisted "There is so much water in the current 71-billion-dollar budget that eight to 10 billion could be easily squeezed out if we were to halt such welfare-state spending as subsidized public housing and the like."

Berliners Would Lose So They Could Win

BERLIN (UP)—Here s an old gag with a new twist among West Berliners

If war breaks out do you want to fight on the American or Russian side?

The Russian side of course I want to be a prisoner of war in America."

March 31 Last Day To File In Welfare Setup

Many Persons Now Eligible Under New Social Security Law

Persons eligible for benefits under the revised Social Security program were reminded today to file their applications immediately

Eugene O Wiles field representative said several new types of benefits are payable under the amended law because of reduced eligibility requirements and technical changes

Since the benefits may be retroactive for six months March 31 is the deadline for obtaining all payments due if the insured person retired or died before September 1950

Those who may be eligible are

▶All wage earners who now are 65 and who have worked at least a year and a half in employment covered by the law since 1937 A number of women who worked during World War II now may be eligible Mr Wiles said

▶Employed wage earners who now are 75 may receive an old-age insurance check every month even though working full time

▶Widows with children under 18 in their care and whose husbands were killed in service or deceased parent must have been in the armed services at least 18 months between September, 1940, and July 1947

▶Children under 18 of a woman worker who died after 1939 may be eligible provided their mother had worked at least 18 months in the three years immediately preceding her death It is immaterial if the children were living with and supported by the father Mr Wiles said

▶The wife of a retired wage earner is eligible for benefits regardless of her own age if she has his children under 18 in her care

▶An aged dependent husband of a retired woman wage earner may also be eligible In some instances he said a former divorced wife who was dependent on her deceased husband may receive payments if she has his young children in her care

Additional information on benefits and who is eligible may be obtained from Mr Wiles in the basement of the Post Office He visits the office each Wednesday and Friday

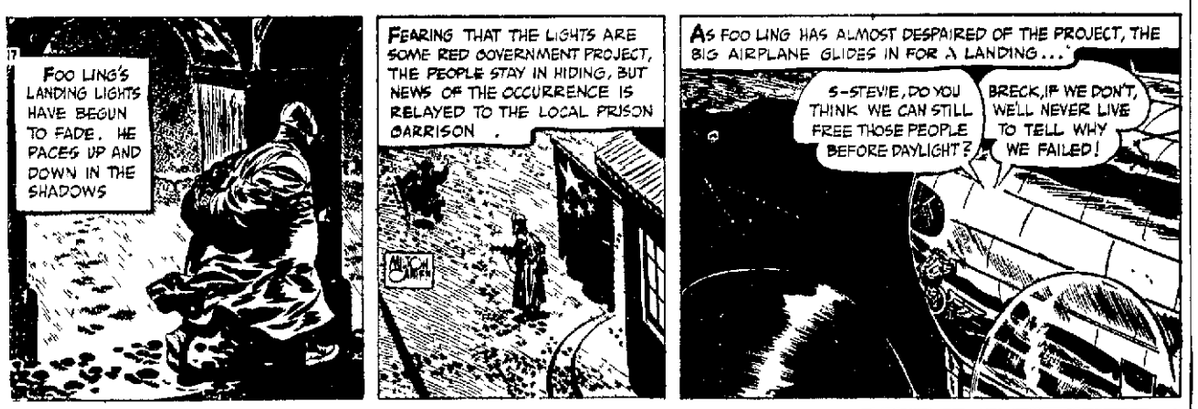
TAFFY! WHERE ARE YOU?
TAFFY!
TAFFY!
I CAN'T LEAVE TAFFY OUT IN THIS STORM!
SHE'S SAFE, I TELL YOU— IN THE CAVE! THE BEACH COMBER BROUGHT HER.
DRINK THIS COFFEE TORCHY. IT'LL WARM YOU UP.
OH! SO HE BROUGHT HER!

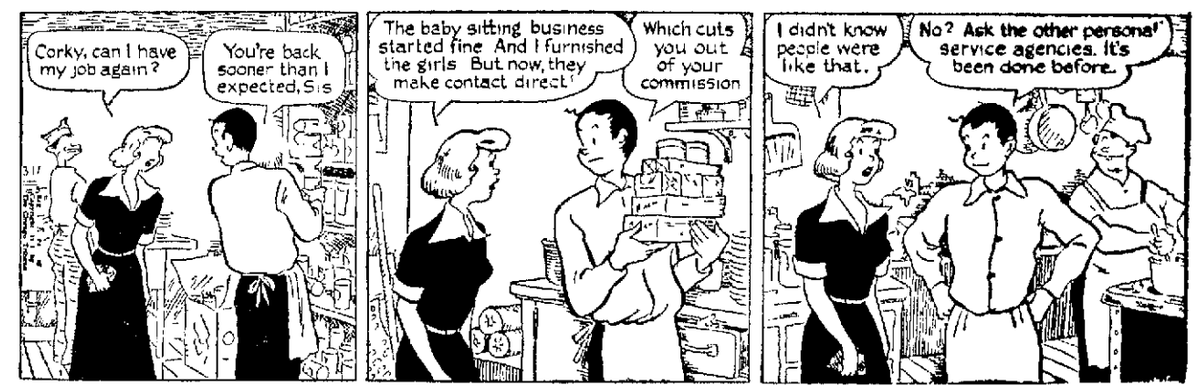
RIP KIRBY

STEVE CANYON



FOO LING'S LANDING LIGHTS HAVE BEGUN TO FADE. HE PACES UP AND DOWN IN THE SHADOWS
FEARING THAT THE LIGHTS ARE SOME RED GOVERNMENT PROJECT, THE PEOPLE STAY IN HIDING, BUT NEWS OF THE OCCURRENCE IS RELAYED TO THE LOCAL PRISON BARRISON .
AS FOO LING HAS ALMOST DESPAIRED OF THE PROJECT, THE BIG AIRPLANE GLIDES IN FOR A LANDING...
S-STEVIE, DO YOU THINK WE CAN STILL FREE THOSE PEOPLE BEFORE DAYLIGHT?
BRECK, IF WE DON'T, WE'LL NEVER LIVE TO TELL WHY WE FAILED!

GASOLINE ALLEY

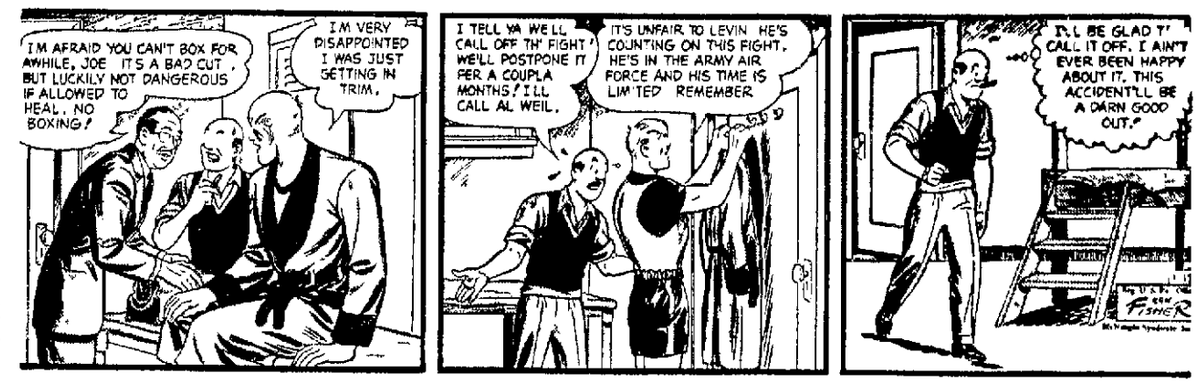


Corky, can I have my job again?
You're back sooner than I expected, Sis
The baby sitting business started fine And I furnished the girls But now, they make contact direct!
Which cuts you out of your commission
I didn't know people were like that.
No? Ask the other personal service agencies. It's been done before.

SECRET AGENT

PHIL, I HAVE SOME TEST RECORDS TO MAKE — AND SOME TV BRASS TO MEET, BUT I'LL FLY OUT TO SEE BUNNY IN A DAY OR TWO! YOU'RE SURE SHE'S ALL RIGHT?
A LITTLE REST, AND SHE'LL BE AS SASSY AS EVER!
— PHIL, YOU DON'T OBJECT TO MY TELEVISION FLING? IT MIGHT HASTEN THE DAY WHEN WE CAN BUILD OUR SCHEME HOME..
SURE, SWEETHEART— AFTER ALL, A G-MAN'S SALARY IS PRETTY MODEST...
— STILL, IT WOULD BE KIND OF NICE TO LIVE IN A HOME THAT I BUILT OUT OF MY OWN EARNINGS! — OR AM I VAIN AND OVER-PROUD?
AND SO A PETTY WEDGE IS DRIVEN INTO AN OTHERWISE HAPPY MARRIAGE...

JOE PALOOKA



I'M AFRAID YOU CAN'T BOX FOR AWHILE, JOE IT'S A BAD CUT, BUT LUCKILY NOT DANGEROUS IF ALLOWED TO HEAL, NO BOXING!
I'M VERY DISAPPOINTED I WAS JUST GETTING IN TRIM.
I TELL YA WE'LL CALL OFF TH' FIGHT, WE'LL POSTPONE IT FER A COUPLA MONTHS! I'LL CALL AL WEIL.
IT'S UNFAIR TO LEVIN HE'S COUNTING ON THIS FIGHT. HE'S IN THE ARMY AIR FORCE AND HIS TIME IS LIM'TED REMEMBER
I'LL BE GLAD T' CALL IT OFF. I AIN'T EVER BEEN HAPPY ABOUT IT. THIS ACCIDENT'LL BE A DARN GOOD OUT.

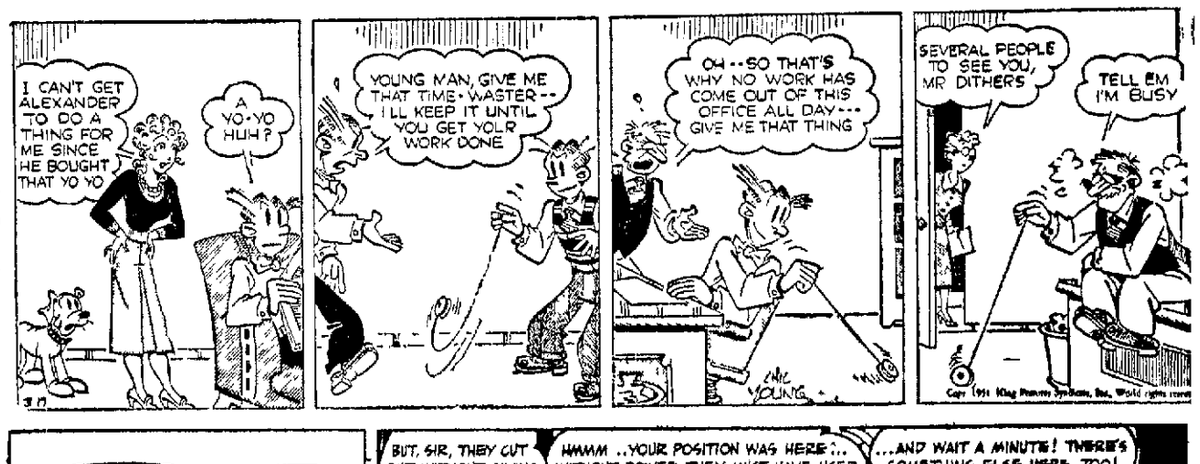
YOU REMEMBER THAT KIBITZER WHO USED TO DRIVE US CRAZY? WELL, I HEAR HE'S VERY SICK HEH! HEH! A COUPLA NURSES AND THREE OR FOUR SPECIALISTS
LOOKS BAD DOES IT? HAW! HAW!
NOW JOE YOU'RE JUST TRYING TO MAKE US FEEL GOOD. WE'LL PROBABLY FIND OUT THAT IT'S SOMETHING TRIFLING LIKE DOUBLE PNEUMONIA
HAW! HAW! THA'S GOOD YOU'RE A CARD, JIM WE NEED FELLOWS LIKE YOU TO CHEER US UP IN THESE DEPRESSING TIMES

BLONDIE



I CAN'T GET ALEXANDER TO DO A THING FOR ME SINCE HE BOUGHT THAT YO YO
A YO-YO HUH?
YOUNG MAN, GIVE ME THAT TIME-WASTER-- I'LL KEEP IT UNTIL YOU GET YOLR WORK DONE
OH--SO THAT'S WHY NO WORK HAS COME OUT OF THIS OFFICE ALL DAY--- GIVE ME THAT THING
SEVERAL PEOPLE TO SEE YOU, MR DITHERS

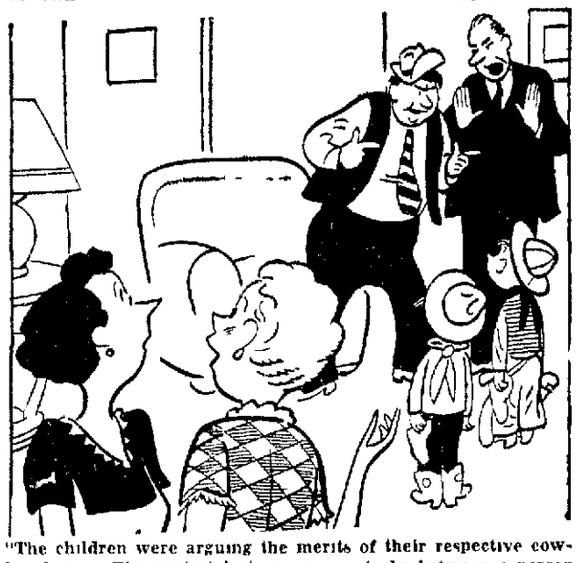
Crosstown By Roland Coe



"The children were arguing the merits of their respective cowboy heroes The contest just now seems to be between a person named William Farnum and a character called 'Hoot' Gibson."

TERRY

GOLLY, SIR! THEN YOU DO BELIEVE I HEARD GI'S CALLING FOR HELP?
I DISCOUNTED THE EXISTENCE OF GHOSTS AT THE AGE OF TWELVE, SOLDIER.
BUT, SIR, THEY CUT OUT WITHOUT GIVING THEIR LOCATION..
HMMM ..YOUR POSITION WAS HERE:.. WITHOUT POWER THEY MUST HAVE USED A HAND-GENERATED FIELD SET. RANGE FORTY MILES AT THE MOST . SO, THEY'D BE SOMEWHERE IN THIS RADIUS .
...AND WAIT A MINUTE! THERE'S SOMETHING ELSE HERE, TOO!

Modest Maidens By Jay Alan

"When he said he was a tired business man I had no idea he really WAS a tired business man!"

DICK TRACY

DO YOU KNOW WHO THAT GUY IS? THAT'S A KILLER! HES AFTER ME!
AND TO THINK I MADE AN APPOINT-MENT WITH HIM
WHAT'LL I DO?
AS A MATTER A FACT, DO JUST EXACTLY WHAT I TELL YOU
ALL RIGHT, BABY I'LL DO ANYTHING— ANYTHING FOR YOU.
OKAY, LISTEN.
LATER—
YES, BY APPOINTMENT! MY DATE IS FOR 10:45 TOMORROW.
AW, NUTS! MAYBE THIS LADY BARBER ANGLE IS ALL WET.

DR. MOTA JUST PHONED! HE'S UNDER ARREST.. ASKED IF CHESTER IS HERE...
DR. MOTA?!! THE SCIENTIST WHO WAS SUPPOSED TO HAVE COMMITTED SUICIDE?!
SAID MAKEPEACE IS A SPY.... HAD CAPTURED HIM AND CHESTER..BUT CHESTER GOT AWAY...
W-WHAT?! WHERE IS MAKEPEACE?! AND W-WHERE IS CHESTER?
MAKEPEACE IS AT LARGE.. A-AND THE POLICE HAVE JUST PUT OUT A GENERAL ALARM FOR C-CHESTER...
OH, ANDY...

SUPERMAN

SUSIE! IT'S CRAZY, BUT THERE'S A LONG DISTANCE TELEPHONE CALL FOR YOU!
COMING, UNCLE CLARK!
SUSIE? HOW'S MY LITTLE SWEETHEART? THIS IS SAM! LOOK, SUSIE -- I WANT A STRAIGHT ANSWER, AN' NO FIBS! WHERE DO YOU LIVE?
WHERE DO I LIVE? WELL, MR. SAM, LATELY I'VE BEEN STOPPING WITH THE TRUMANS, BUT AS A RULE I LIVE WITH MY MOTHER AT 36 EUCLID AVENUE, IN JAYNESVILLE.
("--SO IT'S "MR. SAM," EH?--AND HE WANTS TO KNOW SUSIE'S ADDRESS! I THINK I'M BEGINNING TO SEE WHAT THIS IS ALL ABOUT!--")

Anti-Slots Bill O.K. Looms In Gambling War

Lausche Also May Get Power Against Sheriffs, Mayors

COLUMBUS, March 17 (AP)—Two powerful weapons for Governor Frank J. Lausche's war on gambling are wrapped up in bills awaiting House consideration.

The measures, recommended for passage by the House judiciary committee, are designed to:

▶Virtually drive slot machines from the state.

▶Authorize the governor to ask court removal of mayors, sheriffs and prosecutors.

The committee voted 19-0 Wednesday to recommend passage of the anti-slots measure. It acted after a subcommittee toughened the original proposal by Representative Charles Noel Jr., first Republican representative from Pike county in many years.

Members said the bill does these things:

▶Defines slot machines and gambling devices like a new federal statute that dismays operators looking for a loophole.

▶Makes ownership or display of slots a felony instead of a misdemeanor.

▶Provides a one-to-five-year prison term and a $5,000 fine for owning or possessing slots anywhere in the state.

▶Bans transportation of slots within the state.

House Republicans said after a recent caucus they favored the principle of the Noel bill, indicating it stands a good chance of passing.

Mr. Lausche has long fought use of slots by commercial gambling establishments

He also has asked previous legislatures for power to remove sheriffs who wink at gambling law violations His authority now extends only to removal of mayors.

The judiciary committee took a bill by Representative John F. O'Brien (D) of Cuyahoga county that applied only to sheriffs and added mayors and prosecutors to it. Then it recommended its passage, 14 to 1.

"Does this put the governor on the hot seat?" asked Representative Frank M. Gorman (D) of Cuyahoga county.

"No," answered Representative Lytle G. Zuber (R) of Franklin county, who helped engineer the changes. "This gives him the power he asked."

The power isn't in the form sought by the governor. The bill gives him the right to sign an original complaint for removal hearings in comman pleas courts in the officials' home districts.

The governor wanted the same power to hold removal hearings for sheriffs he now has for mayors. The proposed law would shift that power to the courts but allow the governor to force the hearings.

Taxpayers still could bring removal actions if supported by signatures equal to 15 per cent of the vote for governor in that area in the last election. That method is cumbersome and seldom used.

ASKED BY THE PHOTOGRAPHER to "smile for your birthday, professor," Dr. Albert Einstein suddenly popped out his tongue in this merry fashion, which the lensman was quick to capture at Princeton, N. J. The famous mathematician is 72.

Today's Birthday

LORD ARCHIBALD INVERCHAPEL, born March 17, 1882, in Crossbasket, Hamilton, Lanarkshire, Scotland. British diplomat, he has served in more than a dozen capitals. He was foreign secretary from 1938 to 1940, and has served as British Ambassador in Moscow and in Washington. He was made a peer in 1946. In World War I, he served as a private in the Scots Guards.

County, Townships Share In Gas Funds

Columbiana County gets $20,000 and each of the townships $400 in the state's distribution of about $4,306,619 from the gasoline excise tax fund.

It was the second distribution this year to cities. They got their first cut March 3. This time they received $2,011,819, counties $1,760,000, and townships $534,000.

East Liverpool receives $7,584 and Salem will get $4,570.

Cities' shares were $1 for each motor vehicle registered in the corporation in 1949.

Lausche Sifts Jefferson Plea For Vice Quiz

'Pleased' With Jury, But Undecided About Ordering State Move

COLUMBUS, March 17 (INS)—Governor Frank J. Lausche said today he is "pleased" with the attitude of a Steubenville grand jury which requested a state investigation of vice and crime in Jefferson county.

However, the governor continued, he could not state definitely whether he will grant the jury's request for a probe by his office, the attorney general and the liquor control board until he examines its official petition.

Mr. Lausche said: "It pleases me that they (the jurors) have taken such deep interest in the matter and recognize the need of remedying whatever abuses exist."

Without specifying any specific crimes against anyone, the jury said Steubenville Mayor Walter Sterling and Sheriff Clarence Eberts have been lax in enforcing the law.

Attorney General C. William O'Neill said "we will do our best" if the governor directs an investigation.

Mr. O'Neill pointed out his office has no power to step into any local situation unless so directed by the governor.

The jury reported testimony showing that former known police characters now have legal liquor licenses in Jefferson county.

Members of the liquor control board were not available for immediate comment

The jury charged that vice for many years "has openly operated in between sessions of grand juries".

Bingo Ruled Illegal In Jefferson County

STEUBENVILLE, March 17 (AP)—Bingo, regardless of its sponsors or purpose, is illegal in Jefferson county, Prosecutor James Borkowski has ruled. He told the sheriff and the police chief to stop all such games at once. About 20 church, veterans' and fraternal groups now sponsor bingo games here.

One of the largest aquamarines of fine quality ever found was a Brazilian stone weighing 243 pounds.

Peron Committee Assumes Control Over La Prensa

BUENOS AIRES, March 17 (AP)—La Prensa—one of the world's great newspapers—ceased to exist as an independent organ last night.

It passed into the control of a congressional committee dominated by supporters of President Juan D. Peron.

A resolution ordering a joint Senate and House investigating group to seize the newspaper—chief critic of the Peron regime—was whipped through a special session of the Peron-dominated congress yesterday in less than eight hours.

The 81-year-old morning paper—biggest in the Spanish-speaking world—has been silenced for 51 days as the result of a combined boycott and strike by government-controlled unions.

Whether the committee of six deputies and three senators starting work next week will try to reopen La Prensa is a question still unanswered.

Also open to speculation is the fate of La Prensa's 1,800 employees, of whom 1,300 have expressed loyalty to editor-publisher Alberto Gainza Paz.

The resolution calling on the congressional committee to seize La Prensa to probe its affairs, including its financial structure, was seen as a move only one step short of outright expropriation.
